

Thurs July 22, 1886

Vol 39 NO 48

TPC

PRINCETON CLARION

OIL R. STORMONT, Editor.

THURSDAY MORNING JULY 22 1886

[Entered at the Post-Office at Princeton, Ind. for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.]

BUSINESS LOCALS.

MRS IRENE E. COOLIDGES

School of Musical Art makes a specialty of vocal development of the Italian school. English and Italian Singing Oratorio and Dramatic Singing. Private lessons in Voice Culture or in classes of four. Pupil pupils—either beginning or advanced—will receive thorough instruction in Theory and Technique. Pupils received at any time. For information call for address.

MRS IRENE COOLIDGE

Residence west of the E. & T. H. depot.

FRESH CAR LOAD TINWARE

L. H. WHEELERS.

Cheaper than ever.
2 pint cups for a nickel.
1 quart cup 5c or six for 25c.
1 gallon cup 5c.
1 wash pan 5c.
Everything in tinware sold in proportion.
New patent apple peelers 10c.
Wire horse muzzle at half former price. 22jul4c.

BUSTLES.

I am manufacturing for the wholesale and retail trade the Peerless Extension Wire Bustle. Samples sent by mail, postage paid, for 25 cents. Want agents and dealers all over the county. Good discount to dealers and agents.

L. H. WHEELER,

22jul4c.

Princeton, Ind.

POCKET BOOK LOST.

A pocket book, containing small sum of money and some valuable papers, lost somewhere on the road between Fort Branch and Princeton. The finder will please return to this office and be rewarded.

STRAY MULE.

There is a stray mule about one year old at my place. The owner will please call and take it away and pay expenses.

ROBERT CLARK,

3 miles east of town.

All kinds of fruit cans at Wheeler's, at lowest prices. 22jul4c

REPUBLICAN PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

If you fail to attend it, do not fail to go to W. A. Miseman, who leads the van in the matter of staple and fancy groceries. Having but recently started in business, his goods are all fresh and bought at the lowest cash prices, therefore he can and will give his customers the benefit of unparalleled low prices. Besides a full line of groceries he has a complete assortment of new queens ware and glassware. A car load of salt just received.

P. S.—Coffee fresh roasted every day. When you want a good article in this line give him a call.

COKE TIN CANS.

Such as sold by the stores in Princeton, are unfit to put fruit in. I make my cans of the best brand of charcoal tin and sell them as cheap as they do.

8jul5c.

J. C. KIMBALL.

PENITENTIARY TIN WARE.

Such as sold by stores, is dear at any price. I have the cheap tin ware if you want it. I also have the best at a very little higher price, and much cheaper in the end.

8jul5c.

J. C. KIMBALL.

SHEPHERD PUPS.

Pure bred shepherd pups for sale Come soon if you want choice.

8jul3c.

D. CLINE, Patoka, Ind.

Get your lumber and shingles at BARRETT & STOKES.

Notice the low prices offered by THEO. WRIGHT.

BARRETT & STOKES

will be found the cheapest on shingles and lumber.

LOCAL CLARIONETTES.

When you've told your little story
And have settled to the glory,
Of extravagant narration most successfully displayed,
How you turn a billows yellow
When you hear some other fellow,
With his wretched "That reminds me," lay you snugly in the shade.

—Library excursion to-day.
—Business is getting better.
—Teachers' institute Monday.
—Five meat markets in Princeton.
—Piums 10 and 12 cents per gallon.
—Council was in session Monday night.
—The court house fence is being painted.
—The K. of L. celebration promises to be a huge affair.

—Brownlee's new store is almost ready for the roof.
—Rock hauling has commenced on south Hart street.

—Dimick, Heberd & Lewis are still cutting prices. See adv.
—The wife beaters are holding their peace for the time being.

—William Schaible's wife has presented him with a daughter.
—The U. P. church yard has been filled up and given a better grade.

—The Gibson county fair is on a big boom. Everybody prepare for it.
—For this time of the year we are having exceptionally fine weather.

—Several of the street crossings have been "harmonized" by the city engineer.
—Three new instruments, French horns, will be added to the band soon.

—Market ought to be supplied with good beef now. Cattle are getting in fine condition.

—The Knights of Labor are making elaborate preparations for their celebration, August 2.

—Secretary Strain is out this week advertising the great Gibson county fair and exposition.

—Council, Monday night, allowed Eaton and Haley $89.70 for 105 tons of rock furnished city.

—This has undoubtedly been the finest season for harvesting and thrashing we have had for many years.

—Quite a number of dogs have been poisoned recently, supposed to have been the work of the night prowlers.

—All parties who wish to join in the parade of the Knights of Labor celebration on Monday August 2, will please apply to either W. C. Daly or A. D. Green.

—Only about six weeks to prepare for the fair and exposition. Many new and interesting features will be added this year.

—Several parties leave here next Monday for the west. Some go to Kansas while several continue the trip to California.

—The brick culvert on Main street is to be extended to the property line on the west side so that the pavements can be built up to it.

—The Fort Branch band will furnish music for celebration to be given by the Sons and Daughters of Zion at this place August 4.

—The Princeton band will go to Aurora August 19, to enter a band contest in which there are five prizes, the first being $175.

—One of the Air-line through freights has been going through town at too high a rate of speed and the officers are after the engineer's scalp.

—N. B. French and Mrs. Nancy Devin will offer some household effects at public sale next Saturday afternoon. Sale to begin at one o'clock.

—It is rather warm weather for a sleigh item, but Snapp & Co. shipped one to Portland, Oregon, last week. Charles Lounsdale was the purchaser.

—S. F. Gilmore's dental office is the coolest place in town these hot days. Doc has arranged a steam propelled fan which keeps a constant breeze circulating.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Rev. T. G. Beharrel was in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. C. C. Agar, of Hazelton, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Carrie Pumphrey, of Ft. Branch, is visiting friends in Illinois.

Miss Alice Appenfield will return home from Chicago this week.

Oly Kolb went to Grayville on a business trip for the band Monday.

James Vansandt, mail messenger on the Air line, was in town Tuesday.

E. E. Wilkinson came out Monday, after ten days' confinement to his bed.

Miss Anna Anderson of Vincennes, is in the city visiting Miss Nettie Wire.

Miss May Pearce of Mt. Vernon, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. A. E. Lewis.

Mrs. John Hubbs, of Evansville, is here visiting her brother, Charley Heberd.

Willis C. Howe, of Evansville, went to French Lick last week for the benefit of his health.

W. H. Dimick, of Dimick, Heberd & Lewis, went to Chicago Saturday to purchase some goods.

Mrs. S. M. Barton, of St. Louis, arrived in Princeton Saturday afternoon, to visit her mother and other relatives.

John Cameron was in the city Monday. He came in from Kansas last week and is sojourning with relatives at Oakland City.

Mrs. Mattie Stuart came up from Nashville last week to visit her parents. She was prostrated with typhoid fever on her arrival.

Will Ford, Joe Kern, Darwin McMaster and Will Blair will start on their trip to the Mammoth cave next week. They go by wagon.

Mr. Burr Biven, accompanied by his son Charles, of Booneville, came over Saturday to attend the funeral of his brother, George Biven.

Mesdames Maria Dimick, Matinda Warnock, Oma Gamble and Miss Katie Wilson spent the day last Thursday with Mrs. J. P. Ward at Union.

Miss Lizzie Duncan, who has been teaching in the Fort Branch schools for a dozen years or more, has declined a new engagement for that place the ensuing year, but will teach in the Orr graded school near her home.

George E. Clark, editor of the A. O. U. W. Recorder, and the Labor Advocate, of Evansville, was in town this week in the interest of his publications and also to assist in the preparations for the big celebration of August 2.

K OF L. CELEBRATION.

The Knights of Labor are arranging for a big celebration to be held here August 2. A considerable sum of money has been donated by the citizens for that purpose and a large crowd may be expected here on that occasion. There will be a parade in which the various industries will be displayed in good shape. The Princeton cornet and reed band and an orchestra have been engaged, and Prof. Schmidt's Evansville band and the Vincennes band will probably be here. The fair grounds have been secured, prominent speakers will be present; there will be plenty to eat and the day will be spent in various kinds of amusements. A full program will be given later. A large attendance of Knights from adjoining cities will be here.

VINE SPECIMENS.

W. R. Wright is making some photographic work now that is superior to all former efforts, and that is saying a good deal. Wright is progressive; keeps abreast of the times, and introducing new ideas of his own is often ahead. Much of the work turned out now is of large size and he is issuing some elegant specimens. Mr. Wright will have a fine collection to exhibit at the Gibson county exposition.

A MISSIONARY SERVICE.

Rev. Bruner in his discourse here on the 11th inst. gave particular attention to the missionary work belonging to his church. The collection and subscription on this occasion was very encouraging. The working force on foreign fields has increased to

Several of the street crossings have been "harmonized" by the city engineer.

Three new instruments, French horns, will be added to the band soon.

Market ought to be supplied with good beef now. Cattle are getting in fine condition.

The Knights of Labor are making elaborate preparations for their celebration, August 2.

Secretary Strain is out this week advertising the great Gibson county fair and exposition.

Council, Monday night, allowed Eaton and Haley $89.70 for 105 1/2 tons of rock furnished city.

This has undoubtedly been the finest season for harvesting and thrashing we have had for many years.

Quite a number of dogs have been poisoned recently, supposed to have been the work of the night prowlers.

All parties who wish to join in the parade of the Knights of Labor celebration on Monday August 2, will please apply to either W. C. Daly or A. D. Green.

Only about six weeks to prepare for the fair and exposition. Many new and interesting features will be added this year.

Several parties leave here next Monday for the west. Some go to Kansas while several continue the trip to California.

The brick culvert on Main street is to be extended to the property line on the west side so that the pavements can be built up to it.

The Fort Branch band will furnish music for celebration to be given by the Sons and Daughters of Zion at this place August 4.

The Princeton band will go to Aurora August 19, to enter a band contest in which there are five prizes, the first being $175.

One of the Air-line through freights has been going through town at too high a rate of speed and the officers are after the engineer's scalp.

N. B. French and Mrs. Nancy Deyin will offer some household effects at public sale next Saturday afternoon. Sale to begin at one o'clock.

It is rather warm weather for a sleigh item, but Snapp & Co., shipped one to Portland, Oregon, last week. Charles Lounsdales was the purchaser.

S. F. Gilmore's dental office is the coolest place in town these hot days. Doc has arranged a steam-propelled fan which keeps a constant breeze circulating.

Thomas Allen, two miles southeast of town, assaulted Henry Subling last Friday. Before Squire Wright Saturday he was fined one dollar and costs.

Nashville last week to visit her parents. She was prostrated with typhoid fever on her arrival.

Will Ford, Joe Kern, Darwin McMaster and Will Blair will start on their trip to the Mammoth cave next week. They go by wagon.

Mr. Burr Biven, accompanied by his son Charles, of Boonville, came over Saturday to attend the funeral of his brother, George Biven.

Mesdames Maria Dimick, Malinda Warnock, Oma Gamble and Miss Katie Wilson spent the day last Thursday with Mrs. J. P. Ward at Union.

Miss Lizzie Duncan, who has been teaching in the Fort Branch schools for a dozen years or more, has declined a new engagement for that place the ensuing year, but will teach in the Orr graded school near her home.

George E. Clark, editor of the A. O. U. W. Recorder, and the Labor Advocate, of Evansville, was in town this week in the interest of his publications and also to assist in the preparations for the big celebration of August 2.

K OF L. CELEBRATION.

The Knights of Labor are arranging for a big celebration to be held here August 2. A considerable sum of money has been donated by the citizens for that purpose and a large crowd may be expected here on that occasion. There will be a parade in which the various industries will be displayed in good shape. The Princeton cornet and reed band and an orchestra have been engaged, and Prof. Schmidt's Evansville band and the Vincennes band will probably be here. The fair grounds have been secured, prominent speakers will be present; there will be plenty to eat and the day will be spent in various kinds of amusements. A full program will be given later. A large attendance of Knights from adjoining cities will be here.

FINE SPECIMENS.

W. R. Wright is making some photographic work now that is superior to all former efforts, and that is saying a good deal. Wright is progressive; keeps abreast of the times, and introducing new ideas of his own is often ahead. Much of the work turned out now is of large size and he is issuing some elegant specimens. Mr. Wright will have a fine collection to exhibit at the Gibson county exposition.

A MISSIONARY SERVICE.

Rev. Bruner in his discourse here on the 11th inst. gave particular attention to the missionary work belonging to his church. The collection and subscription on this occasion was very successful.

experience and suffering of this kind. He suffered from the poison of these stings for some time, but afterwards seemed to recover and again resumed his usual work. On the 6th inst. he became ill again while at work and was obliged to return to the house. Just before he had killed a snake, and it was an unusual effect to make him feel nervous and excitable. A chill then seemed to come over him and he could not rest. He reported to his wife that it seemed to him as if he should be so affected by the sting of a snake, since he had been bitten by reptiles all his life. She thought the sensation he was experiencing was due to the poison of the snake, but he was still in his system. He was poisoned, but it was not the bee stings. He called to a small scratch on his arm, which he said had been made by a bee. The instrument in the hands of a neighbor, (who was a well-known man, Mr. B.) with whom he had been shaking hands, and who had been treacherously inflicted. This roused the suspicion that her husband was laboring under a derangement of mind, which was usually attributed to the poison of the bee stings, superinduced by the prostration by heat. However, that a good night's rest would restore him to his usual health, but this she was disappointed in. Finding him still laboring under this strange hallucination that his warmest friends had turned against him and were seeking to injure him, and at times suffered very severely from this cause. For several days he continued, while he still entertained the idea that his friends were conspiring against him and were seeking to injure him.

Hoping that a change of scene would serve to allay his fears and restore his mind to its normal condition, it was proposed to make a visit to some place in this place, anticipating which they had contemplated for some time. To this he readily consented, and it was arranged to start last Wednesday. The day previous he assisted in packing the trunks preparatory to starting on a long journey, and seemed unusually cheerful in all things excepting his imagination that his life was being threatened by a mob of his former friends. The night before starting Mrs. B. secured her husband's approval, and he remained with them over the night, and he seemed to be willing to remain alone with her. Biven was quiet and appeared to be in his usual health until some time after supper when he suddenly remarked to Mrs.