Speaking of rate regulation and kindred legislation, Walter Wellman says: "In the President's well-settled opinion, all this is a vital issue, and the time to settle it is now, at once, this coming winter. If it is not settled now, the campaign will go on till it is settled or Theodore Roosevelt is no longer a leader in our national affairs. The railroad managers and all others concerned may as well make up their minds to that." Inasmuch as this same thought has more than once appeared in these columns, very naturally we think this is a correct statement of the situation.

The eastern Democrats, says a Washington dispatch, recognize that William J. Bryan, if he lives, will dominate the next national convention. There is little fight left in the eastern Democrats. The New York Democrats, from all appearances, are not going to try to prevent the democracy from returning to its radical ideals. They pledged the St. Louis convention that if Parker were nominated New York would go Democratic. The tremendous avalanche which buried Parker in his own state has completely disheartened them. It is not probable that New York will have a candidate before the next national convention. In addition to this, the unmistakable drift of the masses and many of the leaders in the party toward radicalism should be sufficient to open the eyes even of a Bourbon.

The President. Of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, Portland, Ore., telegraphs as follows:

"I congratulate you and thank the Union Pacific on behalf of the directorate for the superb Lewis and Clark folder. It is one of the most elaborate and complete of any issued in connection with the Exposition."

Those who intend to visit the Oregon country will find in this publication a rare fund of information.

It tells you of the shortest way to reach the exposition city what is to be seen enroute, and of the return trip through California. Free on application to W. H. Connor, G. A., No. 53 East Fourth street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"What Shall We Eat?"

Every day the same old question, what shall we eat for breakfast, for luncheon, for dinner? assaults with its monotonous regularity the patient housewife who seeks to provide good living for the family in agreeable variety at moderate cost. There is a daily department in the Chicago Record-Herald which is intended to answer this question satisfactorily every day in the year. It entitled "the Meals for the day," and provides menus for the three meals every day with the necessary receipts. These menus and receipts are carefully selected by the Record-Herald's household editor, and cash prizes are awarded for the best that are received. Housewives are everywhere invited to participate in the competition. For full particulars see the "Meals for a Day" department in The Chicago Record-Herald.

WASHINGTON

Will Be Here Labor Day in Drovers.

Will Take Part in the Particular Parade and the Events at Lincoln Park.

Every assurance was given to the chairman of the Labor day demonstration that Washington had already planned to come over, and help celebrate. While in that city Tuesday J. C. Mayes held a conference with the labor leaders, and he was given the pledge of the labor unions that a large crowd would surely be in Vincennes September 4. The billing was placed in the hands of a committee at that place and the green banners appear to catch at a glance. They will be on the early morning tram and participate in the parade.

OLDEST LEGISLATOR DIED AT 101.

David Work, Member of The Canadian Senate, at Ottawa Is no More--Aged Maryland Man Dead.

Fredricktown, N. B., Aug 22 -- David Work, the oldest legislator in the world, died at his home in this city today.

Mr. Work was a member of the Canadian Senate at Ottawa, a life office. His age was 101 years and 6 months. David Work, LL. D., was born in Londonderry, Ireland, of Scotch parentage, February 19, 1804. He came to New Brunswick when he was 24 years of age and engaged in school teaching. Later he became a merchant.

His legislative career began in 1841, when he was elected to the New Brunswick legislature, and from that time until his death he had been connected with a parliamentary body.

In 1867 at the time of the confederation of the Canadian Provinces, Mr. Work was appointed to the senate of Canada. In politics he was a Liberal. He is survived by a daughter.

Another Dead at 101 Years. Cumberland, Md., Aug 22 -- Danie Kan, the oldest citizen of Western Maryland, died tonight, aged 101 years. He helped build the Chesapeake and Ohio canal before the days of railroads.

INDIANS TO VOTE ON PROHIBITION.

Red Men Also Will Decide The Question of Suffrage at Muskogee Convention.

Muskogee, I. T., Aug 22. Delegates to the constitutional convention which convenes here tomorrow, began to arrive in this city today.

About half of the delegates selected are Indians by blood and many of the others are old pioneer whites. They represent all of the five nations. C. F. Johnson, of the Chickasaw Nation, opposed the convention and refused to issue a call for the selection of delegates, but an independent call was issued by leading Indians and a full quota was selected.

The convention will hold one session a day and will probably remain in session for a month.

Differences of opinions exist regarding the various chapters of the proposed constitution. Practically, all of the leaders favor a strong prohibition plank.

There will probably be a big contest over the suffrage question, as many Indians favor an educational qualification.

SOLDIERS REUNION BEING HELD AT FAIR GROUND

Mayor Greene Welcomed The Soldiers and Citizens In Splendid Address Tuesday Evening-- Names of Soldiers Who Registered.

The old soldiers of Knox county began a four days' meeting at Lincoln park (the Fair Grounds) Tuesday, and the prospects are exceedingly bright for one of the most successful meetings ever held in this city.

Tuesday all arrangements were made for the event, and the officers of the Soldiers' Association worked hard to get everything in readiness for the occasion.

A fine program awaits those who attend every day, and it is the intention to make every day a big day as advertised.

Tuesday the program was under the direction of the president of the association, Capt James H. Welton, of Bicknell. The forenoon was devoted to the erection of tents and organizing the camp.

The Bicknell band was engaged for the occasion, and it rendered several stirring airs, which were enjoyed by those present.

In the evening Mayor G. E. Greene made the welcoming address, which was an eloquent one and greatly relished by the old veterans present.

Rev. Walter G. Barron, pastor of the First M. E. church, opened the evening's program with prayer.

The meetings are being held in the great pavillion, which is gaily decorated with the national colors for the occasion. This is one of the finest places for the meeting that could possibly have been found, and is so brightly and the old soldiers are here. The camp fires are burning brightly, and the old soldiers are busily engaged in swapping old time war stories, and otherwise amusing one another.

Comrade John R. McClure has charge of the Register, and is greatly assisted by Miss Catherine Simpson, the pretty daughter of Capt John T. Simpson. Up to 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon there were thirty old soldiers registered, which, for the first day, was an unusual number.

Those having tents on the grounds are as follows: Capt J. T. Simpson and family, Capt Gude and wife, of Bruceville, Capt J. H. Welton and wife, Bicknell, Thomas B. Wilson and wife, Monroe City, Capt James H. Shouse and wife, Monroe City, and a few others whose names we were unable to secure.

Lake Tahoe.

One of the most beautiful lakes in the world lies in the heart of the Sierras on "The Overland Route", 6,220 feet above the sea level, and is completely hemmed in by mountain walls whose rugged peaks rise in many places to an additional height of from 2,000 to 4,000 feet. It is twenty-three miles wide and from 100 to 2,000 feet deep. The entire region surrounding the lake is picturesque almost beyond description, and a never ending delight to the eye.
