LABOR HOSTS HOLD A BIG DEMONSTRATION

Thousands of the Bone and Sinew of Country March in Grand Parade--Hon. Charles W. Kleckner Makes Fine Address--Mayor Greene Also Spoke.

Labor Day was observed in this city Monday and thousands came to town to witness one of the most magnificent parades ever-seen in the city.

The day opened bright and clear, the weather being fine, just cool enough to make marching a pleasure and to bring out one of the biggest crowds that has visited the city for many years.

Every incoming train brought visiting delegations from Sullivan, Princeton, Linton, Washington, Mt. Carmel and Bicknell, and all the intermediate points within a radius of fifty miles.

The parade formed at Harrison park and marched down Second to Main, on Main to Sixth, up Sixth to Hickman, thence to Seventh street, where it disbanded. The parade began to move 10 o'clock and lasted for over an hour marching through the principal streets of the city.

Headed by the Grand Marshal C. E. Lutz, a member of the Electrical Workers' Union and his Aides, Andy Davis and Howard Earl, the pageant was made up as follows:

- Sullivan band.
Platoon of police.
Speakers in carriages--Hon. Chas. W. Kleckner, Mayor Greene, John C. Mayes and John Birkofer.

The parade was a very creditable one and speaks loud for the committee having it in charge.

After the disbanding of the parade the thousands of people wended their way to Lincoln park where the exercises of the day were to be held.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman John C. Mayes, who introduced Mayor George E. Greene, who delivered the welcome address.

Hon. Charles W. Kleckner, of Logansport, Ind., the principal speaker of the day, was next introduced by Chairman Mayes, who paid a glowing tribute to labor, speaking on the general conditions of the country from a wage standpoint, covering every phase of the laboring element.

In the course of his remarks, he spoke of child labor, tenement houses and sweatshop work. He dwelt upon the unity of labor and without the working man the country would be in a serious state. He paid particular attention to the purchase of union made goods, and the union labels. He cited where the Woman's Union Label League were doing great good for mankind. He also referred to the great Antislavery the Chicago teamsters' troubles and other similar troubles. Mr. Kleckner closed by paying a tribute to the magnificent parade, the large gathering of people and the great effort of the committee in making Labor Day in Vincennes a monster success. He also mentioned the courtesy of the press in booming Labor Day.

The general events of the afternoon's program closed with the following prize winners:

- Wheel barrow race--Suit of overalls, won by Ed McCoy.
Tug of war--Two boxes of cigars, won by Iron Workers.
100-yards sprint--Pair shoes, won by Edward McCoy.
Fat man's race--Hat, won by A. L. Coddle.
Three legged race--100 cigars, won by Tom Mullner and Joe Stage.
Sack race--Box cigars, won by Onie Charley, Oaktown.
Best appearing local in line--First prize, $10 in gold, won by Iron Workers; second prize, $5 in gold, won by Iron Moulders. Judges, J. C. Wise, W. H. Weed and Dr. T. H. Maxedon.
The load of coal from the Prospect Hill Coal Co. was auctioned off on the grounds by J. C. Wise and was sold to the highest bidder, James Wade Emison, for $10, which is to go to the Hospital fund.

At night a free dance was given and the program was completed by an excellent series of moving pictures by the street railway company and a fine concert by the First Regiment band.

From Sullivan.
A part of the Sullivan delegation who attended Labor Day in this city were as follows:

- William Ferre, Charles Smith, Barney Saucerman, William Saucerman, Hosa Decker, James Willis, Frank Botts, Frank Walters, Dode Chambers, Lardy Mason, Tobe Boone, Hal Dillingham, Floyd Dillingham, Riley Sanders, Claude Bell, Ralph Edwards, Mack Hunt, Charles Breediore, Will Willis, George Brown, Did Burton, Charles Hunt, Peter Scott, Theo Barnes, Alex Ross, Fred French, Harlod Ford, Oscar Newsome, Dick Davis, Dr. Pirtle, Frank Hyatt, Hosea Hyatt, Charles Biles, Cliff Biles, Charles Davis, Robert Davis, Edward Curtis, Roy Orr, Robert Ladson, Cruse Knotts, Lucian McCord, Char. Stetzell, Frank Shepard, James Hampton, Richard Engle, Robert Kirkham, William Ferre and Chas. Ruddle.

Small Fire.
The only thing that marred the pleasure of the good-natured crowd on Labor Day was an alarm of fire which was responded to with alacrity by the Department. The fire companies had hardly quit the parade when the alarm was turned in. The fire was discovered in the wood shed of Jud Robbins, North Seventh street but was soon extinguished.

Marriage Licenses.
Marriage licenses were issued Labor Day by the clerk as follows:
William H. Caldwell and Miss Ora Thomas.
Herbert Decker and Miss Madie A. Roach.

Circuit Court.
The September term of the Knox Circuit court convened with Judge Cobb on the bench Monday, and the criminal and civil docket were set when court was adjourned for the day.

AUTOMOBILES

Not Allowed on Knox County Fairgrounds

Management Refused to Grant Labor Day Committee Privilege of Auto Races.

The automobile races advertised for Labor Day did not come off, and a great many people were disappointed. This part of the program had been advertised a great deal, and many looked for the event. The committee in charge of the races bought suitable prizes, and about ten cars were entered for the races. When the first two cars appeared on the track for a little try out, the fair ground keeper promptly fired them out. The Labor Day committee then tried again to get the race arranged. Part of the cars had returned to the city, but the four remaining ones agreed to go on so as not to fool the crowd, but this time some of the fair association, it is said, raised a howl and said it would ruin the track, and they would not permit the machines to go on the race course. Yet notwithstanding this act of ignorance, the fair association is advertising automobile races for the fair. It is not very likely that the automobile owners of this city will ever again agree to enter any automobile maneuvers at the fair ground. There seems to be something very sacred about the soil at the fair grounds. These fair promoters expect people to attend their fake attractions, but when the labor people try to have anything the fair people stamp it out. Then another great roar was made yesterday about the cavalry troops camping on the fair grounds. What next will the fair people kick about.

BABY'S FACE MASS OF SORES

Ears Looked as if They Would Drop Off--Body Entirely Covered with Humor--Three Doctors Could Not Cure--Child Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS

Mrs. George J. Steese, of 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, tells in the following letter of another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humors daily made by Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, after physicians, and all else had failed: "I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. She broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doctors, they all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was eaten away, her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of soap and box of ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body was as clear as a new-born babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby, after spending many dollars on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."

BRYAN WILL BE AT THE FRONT. The Louisville Courier-Journal casts a very dark horoscope for its party. It says that Mr. Bryan is still a big force in public affairs. "He will weed as wide a swath," it says, "in 1908 as he did in 1900. He will write the platform and name the ticket. No one will take the field against him. The fortunes of the party are so low and the outlook so unpromising that no man of ambition or caliber would care to accept the responsibility of its leadership." [This looks like a safe forecast. Bryan has a tight grip on the Democracy, comments the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. He was the big figure in the St. Louis convention of 1904. Out-voted though he was by the delegates on some points, he had the applause of the audience throughout. No other man in the convention evoked anything like the enthusiasm which Mr. Bryan incited. The reporters followed him through the city more persistently than they did any other person in the convention or around it. John Sharp Williams was a disappointment to those who had been expecting great things from him. His speech was probably one of the worst ever delivered by any big personage at a national convention. Hill, Belmont and the rest of the personages at the convention were completely occulted by the Nebraskan. Mr. Bryan will never be president. Clay also never was president, but he was a man who had to be reckoned with by the Democracy of the day. The Republicans will have to take Bryan into their calculations for 1908. If he is nominated--and the chances are that he will be--he will make a far better canvass than Parker put up. The Republican who is nominated in that year will be elected, but he will have no 2,500,000 or a popular plurality behind him. Bryan has a stronger hold on the Democracy than any other politician has had on any party since Clay, and his case is more remarkable than Clay's because the great Kentuckian was in public office nearly all the time in which he was an aspirant for the presidency, and he was constantly doing things. On the other hand, Bryan's service in political office was short, and was not particularly notable. The secret of Bryan's tremendous vogue in his party is an excellent subject for the political philosophers to tackle.

GOLD DISCOVERED IN PIKE COUNTY, IND.

The Yellow Metal in Paying Quantities Discovered on Famous "Bill Hays" Farm.

Jasper, Ind., Sept. 4.--Lincoln Britain, of Pike county, was here today telling of the discovery of gold on his farm near Noxid. Mr. Britain used to live in Boone township in this county, but bought a farm near the famous "Bill Hays" farm and shortly after moving there he noticed a peculiar sort of ore which he believed contained some valuable mineral, so he finally decided to send some of it away to be assayed, and the returns from the assay office show that the ore contains gold in paying quantities. Mr. Britain and the people of his locality, it is said, are much excited over the discovery, and many believe that Pike county will develop into a profitable gold field.
