A DAIRYMAN.

Speaking of the High Price of Milk. If any one will stop to think of the expense it takes to run a dairy when you pay twenty-four dollars a month for three hands each, and their board, forty dollars a month for the driver and furnish him a house and garden spot, and furnish him in milk and one meal a day; if you think my work is worth anything, where I work sixteen hours a day, you might count it in. I pay twenty dollars a ton for hay and fed seventy tons for the past year. Twelve dollars a month for horse-shoeing and besides keeping the wagon and harness and milk vessels in repair, keeping up the fences for 100 acres of ground, the ground valued at 100 dollars per acre, not counting the tax on the dairy or the ground. I lost four head of cattle this year that were worth fifty dollars per head, not counting in where some people forget to pay for their milk. Now, if any consumer wants to lease my dairy and farm at six per cent for six months, I will invoice my entire property, and he can make a profit at twenty-five cents a gallon. If he will secure me that he will return everything as he got it. I will exchange places with him and pay him thirty-two cents a gallon for my family use.

A. BOBE, A Milk Dealer.

When The Wise Man Fell. [Chicago Record-Herald.] He never bucked the tiger and he never bet a cent

That he could find the cup which held the pea; He never at a circus tried to crawl beneath the tent, Nor tried to pet a fractious bumble-bee.

He never bought a gold brick and he never rocked a boat, He never teased a bulldog in his life;

He never rushed in madly to lay hold upon the throat Of a bully who was pummeling his wife.

He never pulled the trigger of an ancient rusty gun, Just to see if it contained a load or not;

He never, when the gas leaked, started in upon the run With a lighted lamp to find the leaky spot.

He never signed a paper till he'd read it through and through, He never skated where the ice was thin;

But they coaxed him into Wall street when the sky was soft and blue And they casually stripped him to the skin.

PERRY WAS MISQUOTED

Labor Day Orator Denies Statements in Capital in Alleged Interview.

Last Tuesday the Capital contained an interview which one of its reporters had with Theodore Perry on the political situation from the laboringman's standpoint in the State of Indiana. The interview was arranged for by the Capital with Mr. Perry, and as it did not publish the interview as truly given, Mr. Perry has written to a friend in this city concerning the misstatements printed. The letter in part follows: "The young man who interviewed me seems to have twisted things somewhat. The article is correct, with the exception of that portion pertaining to W. C. Taylor. I did not say that organized labor would give him their undivided support, nor did I say that they would support him at all. What I did say, when he asked me about Taylor, was that I knew nothing about him, as he had never held any office that brought him in contact with the labor organization, and, therefore, has never shown his hand. I also said that if, he (Taylor) obtained the nomination for governor, his past would be investigated so far as it related to labor organizations. This is the second time I have been misquoted as saying things that I did not say. The next time I will write it for them, and then insist on seeing the proof. I do not desire to be placed in the light of saying who organized labor will support at this early date, as the trades unionists will decide that question for themselves when the proper time arrives. But I suppose the Capital is for Taylor and took this method of giving him a boost—if it can be considered a boost."

"Yours fraternally, THEODORE PERRY."

WORK THAT TELLS.

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Vincennes. Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Vincennes. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Vincennes sufferer longer doubt the evidence? Leonard Mansfield, 626 North Seventh street, Vincennes, Ind., says: "From my personal experience, I consider Doan's Kidney Pills to be a thoroughly reliable kidney remedy. I had kidney trouble and backache for four years. I consulted physicians and used many different remedies, but obtained no permanent relief. I heard many people telling of the good qualities of Doan's Kidney Pills and this led me to procure a box at C. S. Miller's drug store. I took them according to directions and was soon convinced that I had the right remedy. I took the second box and they cured me entirely. There has been no recurrence of the trouble since, and consequently I would recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any sufferer from kidney trouble."

HEMORRHOIDS SORES AND ECZEMA

Accompanied by Terrible Itching—A Complicated and Most Distressing Case—Well-known Remedies Failed to Cure—Doctor Thought an Operation Necessary—Then

CUTICURA PROVED ITS WONDERFUL EFFICACY

"I am now eighty years old and one morning, three years ago, I was taken with a hard pain in my right side. In two days I had an attack of piles (hemorrhoids), bleeding and protruding. The doctor gave me some medicine and an ointment for them which helped me some but I had to keep using them all the time. Then I changed to the remedy; but if I did not use it every day, I would get worse. The doctor said the only help for me was to go to a hospital and be operated on. At this time, about a year ago, I went to using the remedies and tried them for four or five months but did not get much help for my piles. During this time sores would come on a fleshy part of my body. They bothered me all the time. I would get one healed and another would come. These sores changed to eczema, accompanied by a terrible itching. It seemed as if I could not keep my hands from tearing my flesh. This and the pile trouble brought on an inflamed condition. Then I got the Cuticura Remedies. I washed the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and warm water in the morning, at noon, and at night, then used Cuticura Ointment on the irritated surfaces and injected a quantity of Cuticura Ointment with a Cuticura Suppository Syringe. I also took Cuticura Resolvent Pills three times a day. It took a month of this treatment to get me in a fairly healthy state and then I treated myself once a day for three months and, after that, once or twice a week. It is fortunate that I used Cuticura. The treatments I had tried took a lot of money that I would have saved by using Cuticura Remedies sooner, but I am wiser now. I am supplied with a full set of the Cuticura Remedies and would not feel safe without them. J. H. Henderson, Hopkinton, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., Apr. 26, 1907."
