

Photo by George Smith, Princeton

King's Station Local 2584 marches in a Princeton Labor Day parade, date believed to be in 1931. By identifying the latest cars in the background, a local antique car club is helping the Labor Day

Association date hundreds of such unmarked photos, donated from the files of a defunct Princeton photography studio.