It is the duty of workers of every kind and not only the miners to vote for the re-election of President Wilson and Senator Kern. They have proved themselves the friends of labor and of humanity. That was the central thought of the address of "Mother" Jones to 10,000 people assembled at Oak Summit and Mesker parks yesterday to celebrate Labor Day.

HODGENVILLE, Ky., Sept 4.—President Wilson came to here today to pay homage to the memory of Abraham Lincoln and avoid but a great crowd gathered from all parts of the state, cheered his appearance and turned his visit into a campaign event.

"Mother" Jones held the attention of the city yesterday and was the principal feature of the entire Labor Day celebration. The day was celebrated in a manner that greatly surpassed all previous efforts of the unions and men from all walks of life laid aside their work and poined in the observance.

The president accepted for the general government the log cabin in which Lincoln was born, in a speech to an eulogy of the Civil war period. Standing on a temporary platform at the foot of the hill topped by a magnificent granite memorial housing the Lincoln cabin, he eulogized Lincoln as the embodiment of democracy.

Education and agitation are the remedies that are doing away with industrial injustice and bringing the laboring man and his family closer to the goal of their ambitions according to Mother Jones.

"We are not worthy to stand in the presence of the great man unless we ourselves be in deed and in truth real democrats and servants of the people," he said, "ready to give our lives for freedom and justice a national exaltation of the great man which shelters and nurtures us."

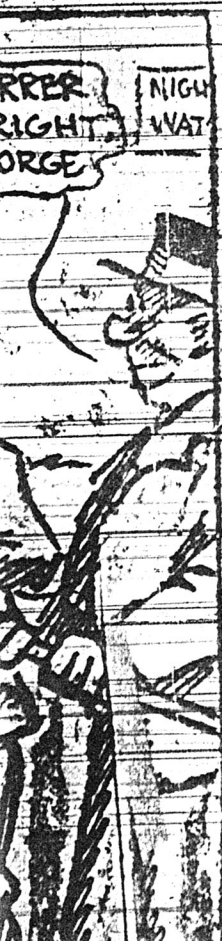

A monster crowd gathered at Oak Summit and Mesker parks immediately after the parade and at 2:30 in the afternoon President Tiesman of the Central Labor union called the meet-

The non-political character of the program was emphasized by the omission of the name of Charles F. Brannan, the republican nominee, by the speakers, in giving the list of donors of the Lincoln Farm association.

Summit and Mesker parks immediately after the parade and at 2:30 in the afternoon President Tleman of the Central Labor union called the meeting to order and in a few brief words introduced the speaker. In his introduction he termed her as the most noble woman and one of the grandest characters that has ever visited the city.

"Miners Living In Hell"

Mother Jones at the opening of her speech took exception to his naming her the "angel of the miners," telling her audience that the miners needed no angel, "They are living in hell and they want to raise hell," she said.

Briefly she recounted a few of her many experiences of which the public has some knowledge but lost very little time in getting down to her subject, that of telling how the unions may more quickly accomplish the industrial freedom which they are seeking.

Asks Return of Wilson and Kern

She was strong in her praises of Senator John Worth Kern and President Wilson for the work they have done for the laboring men, and asked the men of her audience to return these men to office and gave her reasons for it.

This grand old woman, now more than 86, stood for nearly two hours, telling not only the men but the women how to go about their duty.

Once during her speech, which she was bearing heavily on the value of educating the children, she said: "Women must realize that each child is the gift of nature and you must devote your time to moulding the mind of that man into a highly developed citizen of your nation. One day you will render an accounting to a Judge that will take no excuses. There is a reason for every criminal that is cast upon the state and while the men are fighting for a better living for you, you should devote all your time and energy to your children.

"This is the difference between a lady and a woman. A lady is a blood-sucking parasite that takes the blood of childhood that has been ruined and and destroyed and melts it into jewels for her ears, neck and fingers. It is impossible for me to understand how these ladies can go through universities and attain the finest classical education and not learn to see things as they are. A woman is a God-blessed creature, the finest work of the Creator.

Must Educate and Agitate.

"We have learned that we must educate and agitate in order to accomplish our purpose. It was in 1865 that a group of men gathered together down in Kentucky for the purpose of gaining recognition for the working man's government. They said

Politics Came to

But as soon as the formal were over politics came to the railroad station platform where the president stood for nearly an hour with men and women greeted him as the 'next' his train pulled out the crowd and clapped while he bowed in acknowledgement.

What was said to be the largest crowds ever gathered in part of Kentucky came to the farm in special trains and on foot. The president and party were taken from the farm in automobiles, by a troop of Louisville police way the president stopped wreath on a statue of Lincoln.

At the farm he walked the flight of broad granite stairs crowds of cheering people to the coln memorial building at the

Silently Examines

Inside he examined the room cabin made of rough mud and then wrote his name in the register.

Former Governor Joseph Belmont, president of the Farm association, presided at the formal ceremonies. Robert H. Reed of the gift to the farm, and Secretary Baker, representing the Senator Williams of Mississippi and Gen. John B. Castleman of Ohio also delivered speeches.

In introducing the president Folk spoke of Mr. Wilson as the successor of Lincoln in the hearts of the American people.

President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Secretary Baker, Secretary and Dr. Grayson, the white physician, left here at 2 o'clock for Lexington where they will arrive at 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Text of Address

President Wilson's address was "No more significant message have been presented to the people of this. It expresses so much of the singular and noteworthy things of the country; it suggests the things that we prize most in our life and in our system of government. How eloquent this within this shrine is of the democracy! There is no other land any home so remote that it may not contain the mind and heart and conscience which nations yield and admit its processes. Nature's tribute to aristocracy, subterfuge of caste, renders down in Kentucky for the purpose of gaining recognition for the working classes in the government. They said they must have a member in the cabinet and it took fifty years of eternal pounding for them to succeed. During that time we suffered murder, imprisonment, hunger and persecution but we got there. Now we have twenty-eight members in congress and in the coming election it is up to us to double that.

"After the world's greatest agitator left the earth there arose a leader down in Carthage who started a great movement for industrial freedom. The Romans, recognizing it, went down into that country and brought him a prisoner before their judges and asked him 'Why do you carry on this agitation, disturbing the order of things?' He told them that he belonged to a class that had been robbed and crucified and that he believed it his duty to enlighten them.

Not a Suffraget.

"This is my duty. It has been ever since I began and we are still in a fight. I am not telling you what you should eat and drink that is your business. I don't belong to the suffragets, neither do I belong to the charity brigade. I don't believe in charity. When I was down in West Virginia I was brought up before a federal judge and asked why I did not go into charity. I told him that there is not a charity organization in the world that I would not tear down if I could and over its ruins build a temple of justice.

"Would you have been afraid to say that? Afraid of a man that is robbing you? You would be a fine man, some girl ought to marry you.

"We are making progress because we appeal to reason and are avoiding violence and brute force. That belongs to the capitalist 'pirates.' When it was announced that the railroad strike was pending and orders had gone over the country for it to take place, I knew it would never take place. I said I don't believe the men will strike and I knew that the railroads would not let them strike. They knew that a strike would tie up everything; all industry would stop; the shops would close and men would clamor. The government would then take them over and throw the pirates overboard.

"Twenty-two years ago the railroads would not arbitrate but since that time the men have carried on a campaign of education and agitation and today the men told the railroads that they would not arbitrate, and they accomplished their purpose.

"When I left West Virginia in 1903 all the miners of that district were organized and after a few years I picked up a paper in Butte, Mont., and

The Mystery of Democracy

"Here, no less, hides the my democracy. Who shall guess cret of nature and providence free polity? Whatever the vig vitality of the stock from w sprang, its mere vigor and so do not explain where this man great heart that seemed to c hend all mankind in its catho benignant sympathy, the mind enthroned behind those broodin ancholy eyes, whose vision swe an horizon which those abo dreamed not of,—that mind th prehended what it had never se understood the language of affa the ready ease of one to the born,—or that nature which se its varied richness to be the of men of every way of life. the sacred mystery of democra its richest fruits spring up out which no man has prepared and cumstances amidst which they least expected. In this is right that we should remind selves of the solid and striking upon which our faith in democ founded. Charles Dawes and sons Chas. Maurice have returned from Cal. Ky. where they spent the latter of August.

Eighty-first birthday of Mr. C. Bedenkamp, which occurred Sunday was celebrated by a family reunion at the home of his daughter, Stunkel, who planned the affair as a surprise.

Eight children, three sons and five daughters with twenty-five grandchildren compose the family of Mr. Bredenkamp, most of whom were present at the anniversary. The guests came with baskets of good things and a luncheon was enjoyed. Mr. Bedenkamp came to Evansville to his home a few years ago after working for forty-five years near Warren in Scott township.

At the home of Mrs. Edgar Garvin on South First street this evening will be held the cottage prayer meeting for the month of August in the South First street section. John Kennedy of Walnut street is expected to be the leader for the evening.

Miss M. B. Russell and Miss Halene of South First street attended the Sunday school convention in Fort Scott during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Laval of South First street who have been visiting in Minnesota during August are expected to return Wednesday. With Mr. and Mrs. Laval they spent two weeks at Sylvia, a delightful summer resort.

Miss Margaret Varner before her departure from DePauw college, Miss Ruth Johnson will entertain at cards this evening at her home in Line street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bedford Jones have been spending the summer at Northern Michigan lake resorts, and have returned to the city and are with Mr. and Mrs. Williamson for a visit before returning to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Williamson who have remained over for a few days to be with Mr. and Mrs. Jones after their return, left Monday for their home in Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. B. S. Rose is at Bay View, Michigan, to spend the month of September.

Miss Fannie Harrison returned Monday from a ten day's visit in California, Ky.

During the strike we were sentenced. I knew I was going to get it anyhow. I was an undesirable citizen. I got five years and I told them to go to it.

Miners Owe Debt to Senator Kern.

While in jail I saw in a newspaper that Wall street had telegraphed to Senator Kern not to introduce the bill for an investigation of that strike. I immediately wired him and my message was read on the floor of the senate and the bill went through. The miners owe Senator Kern a debt which they can never repay. After the committee made their report on that investigation you can easily see your interest in sending men to congress who are interested in you.

She reviewed the story of how she fooled the governor of Colorado during the recent strike there. She related how, after being brought to the governor's office she answered his threat to put her in jail by telling him that if George Washington had followed his advice we would still be under English rule.

She told the men that if she could get the economic power she did not care who was elected to congress.

Workers Should Vote For Wilson

"I want every working man in the city regardless of political party to vote for Woodrow Wilson. I want Wilson back and I will tell you my reasons.

"In all the history of the country we never were able to get any legislation for children until the child labor bill was passed by this congress. While the house and the senate were tampering with the bill he went down and said 'I want it passed and there will be no pigeon hole for it.'

The picnic of the local Carpenters' union No. 90, which was held yesterday at West Heights Cave park, proved to be successful in every way. It is doubtful whether any picnic ever was conducted in a more orderly manner. Not an argument was heard all day.

The Central Labor Union is to be congratulated on its successful celebration of Labor Day. This day is peculiarly labor's own holiday, and the character of the celebration is not fixed as in the case of many other holidays but is the choice of the workers themselves.

Yesterday it was decided to renew the custom of having a parade. The fine turnout was highly creditable both to the Central Labor union and to the individual unions engaged. The picnic following showed perfect management and the whole day was one to which President Tleman and his associates on the general committee can look back to with satisfaction.

"If your small boy disobeys and has to be taken out to the woodshed by his fond papa, have his bedroom papered a sky blue. If your little girl tells a story or hops on the ice wagon, buy her a pale blue pinafore." This is the advice of the Rev. J. F. ## Declines to Attend Nashville Celebration When Political Speech Is Barred

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 4.—Charles E. Hughes today declined to attend the Labor day celebration here, as arranged for by a local committee, when he was advised that he would not be permitted to speak except on non-political subjects. Mr. Hughes also declined to review the Tennessee national guard, saying that he no right to do so.

No formal invitation had been extended Mr. Hughes by local labor unions in charge of the Labor day celebration, but the committee in charge of the nominees program advised him that it "would be all right" for him to attend. Announcement had been made by this committee that Mr. Hughes would be present.

When Charles W. Farnham, manager of the Hughes tour, conferred today with the local Hughes committee, he was told that Gov. Rye, of Tennessee, democrat, and other speakers would address the meeting. Mr. Farnham was told that some of the speakers probably would endorse the enactment of the Adamson bill. He replied that Mr. Hughes would attend the celebration if he would be permitted to speak. The committee advised him that labor leaders in charge of the program had decided that Mr. Hughes would not be permitted to talk on subjects of a political nature.

Arrangements for the nominee's attending the celebration were then cancelled.

Audience Cheers For Wilson

In territory which no republican presidential nominee ever has visited before, Charles E. Hughes tonight faced a tumultuous audience in the auditorium here. With cheers for Woodrow Wilson ringing again and again in his ears, heckled by questioners and halted often by democratic sympathizers, the nominee criticized the administration for its policies, argued for a protective tariff, and in a reference which the audience took to apply to the enactment of the Adamson bill, asserted that he stood firmly for the arbitration of all industrial disputes.

Declares For Arbitration

"I believe there is no grievance with respect to labor," Mr. Hughes said, "that cannot be settled by a fair, candid explanation of the facts. We have in the past had to deal frequently with the opposition of employers to the principle of arbitration. Sometimes they have refused to arbitrate disputes. Public opinion has been against them. I stand here firmly for the principle of arbitration of industrial disputes and I would not surrender it to anybody in the country. Now then, I stand for two things: First, for the principle of arbitration of industrial disputes."

Denounce Sale of Liquor at the Saloons

The Evansville Pastors' association at its regular meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning at 10 o'clock adopted a resolution formally protesting against the "wet" Labor Day in this city yesterday.

Although the members of the association entered a protest against the sale of liquor at the Labor Day picnic, the pastors were more concerned over the open saloons in the city. Rev. A. M. Couchman of the Central M. E. church intimated that the pastors realized that it might be a serious matter for the administration to attempt to prohibit the sale of liquor at the picnic.

"Just because one man or group of men steal a half loaf is no reason why everyone else should be permitted to steal a whole loaf," said Rev. Couchman.

Protest of the Pastors.

The protest adopted by the pastors follows:

"We, the members of the Evansville Pastors' association of the city of Evansville, hereby enter our most solemn protest against the saloons of the city being permitted to be open on Labor Day in violation of the laws of the state of Indiana. We also enter our protest against the selling and using of liquors at the Labor Day picnic, also in violation of the laws of the state, and we enter our most solemn protest against the mayor and the board of safety of the city in permitting such flagrant violations of the laws of the state and city, and in violation of the mayor's oath to enforce all laws indiscriminately."

The protest was drafted by Rev. A. M. Couchman of the Central M. E. church, chairman; Rev. Hamilton Hymes of the Grace Memorial Presbyterian church, and Rev. G. C. J. Schaub of the St. Mark's English Lutheran church.

The points made in the protest were unanimously authorized by all the pastors at the meeting.

Will Not Start Prosecutions.

The pastors decided, according to Rev. Couchman, that they would not take the initiative in the prosecutions for violations of the liquor laws. Rev. Couchman said he did not believe it would be possible to get convictions even if the association filed affidavits against the violators.

The pastors decided to hold no services in the city churches on Sunday, Sept. 24. On that date union services will be held at the Stough tabernacle. On all other days during the coming evangelistic campaign regular services will be held in the churches.

YOUNG MEN'S DEMOCRATIC

gion, says the battling over the 13 mile front from Beaumont to the Somme was of the greatest ferocity. The Germans held their ground at Theloval, north of Pozieres and near Ginchy, but Guillemont village, and wood were lost, as likewise was Ginchy, but a counter attack of the Germans won back a portion of the latter town.

Russians Win Victory

Again there is heavy fighting on the front in Russia west and southwest of Lodz and north of Zborow and near Gattica with the Russians generally the aggressors. Petrograd controverts the assertion of Berlin that the Russians obtained only local successes near Brestany by the declaration that the Russians won a victory over the Teutons here and took 2,641 prisoners. In the Carpathian region, according to Petrograd, the Russians have captured an entire series of heights and are advancing to the Hungarian frontier.

Rumanians Bombard Hermannstadt

All along the Transylvanian front the Rumanians continue to press their advantage against the Austro-Hungarians. Here they have captured several additional towns and now are said to be bombarding the town of Hermannstadt, which is second in importance only to Kronstadt.

The German and Bulgarian forces are attacking along the entire front between Dobrudja and Bulgaria. Near Koemar, Berlin reports, the Rumanians were driven back with the loss of 700 men taken prisoners.

In Albania the Italians east of Avlona have taken the villages of Kutal and Brizar and Monte Gradist.

The Germans have surrendered to the British Dar-es-Salaam, Germany's chief seaport in East Africa.

Considerable fighting is in progress in the Austro-Italian theater, but without any important changes in Terrain having occurred.

Berlin admits the loss of an airship the night of Sept. 2. It is probable that this was the Zeppelin which London reported was brought down during the raid on the east coast of England Saturday night.

BARON SCHENK PRISONER ABOARD ALLIED CRUISER

Chief German Agent in Greece Arrested—Entente Demands Granted.

ATHENS, Sept. 3, 1 a. m. (via London, Sept. 4, 11 a. m.)—Baron von Schenk, chief director of the German propaganda in Greece, has been arrested and taken on board a cruiser of the entente allies. Sixteen additional warships of the entente powers have arrived at Piraeus.

Diplomats of the entente allies had demanded that Baron von Schenk and sixty co-workers in behalf of the central empires, be expelled from Greece. It was reported that he had barricaded himself in his house in Athens and surrounded it with a score of armed guards and his friends to protect him. The Greek government has accepted the new demands of the allies, and French and British agents have taken control of the postal and telegraphic systems.
