

IS IN CAL CONDITION PARADE FEATURES CELEBRATION AT HENDERSON

A RECEIPT FOR BLEACHING DARK OR SALLOW SKIN

Journal-News Bureau, State Capital.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 4.—Gov. Goodrich is just now passing through the most serious and critical stage of typhoid fever. That he will recover seems to be the opinion of the physicians, but he is not out of danger by any means.

Little has been said of the illness of the governor, but those who have been informed as to the situation have known that he was in a critical condition.

It is quite well known that it will be many weeks before he will be able to attend to the duties of his office. As soon as he is able to move around he will go away somewhere for a long rest, during which time it is hoped he will regain his strength to enable him to stand the hard work of his office. Where he will go no one knows as yet. Those who are keeping themselves informed express the belief that he will not return to his office for active work in less than three months from this time.

It is regarded as fortunate that the governor did not issue a call for a special session of the legislature at the time when such a contingency stared him in the face. His illness started before the date on which the session would have opened, and he would have been absent throughout the session. It would be in progress right now, while he is passing through the most critical period.

It is known that the governor had definite ideas about what the legislature would be asked to do at a special session, and they were subjects in which he was deeply interested. If the session had been called he could have had no part in it, however, because of his recent illness.

It is fortunate, also, that all of the important matters that were on hand at that time were disposed of or else the necessity for attention disappeared before he was taken ill. Therefore, the governor's office is running along in his absence with nothing doing except the routine matter-of-course affairs that do not require his personal attention.

Action by the president in regard to coal prices and the general coal situation removed the one great need for a special session of the legislature. It was the idea of the governor that unless the federal government took strong and immediate action it would be necessary for Indiana and the other states to do something for themselves to bring relief to the situation. It was this, more than any other one thing, that called for the special session.

There were other matters that appeared as if they would require attention, also, but the actual necessity appears to have disappeared and the

A feature of the Henderson Labor Day celebration, which was attended by over 2,000 people from Evansville and by many others from Vincennes, Owensboro, Newburg, Boonville and a dozen Kentucky towns was the big industrial parade at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Evansville's delegation in this parade was headed by the West Side band. The crowd at the Henderson fair grounds was estimated at over 5,000.

Mother Jones was the principal speaker of the day, and dealt in her talk with the benefit of organization to all classes of labor and in closing made the plea that every effort be made to unionize all mines in Kentucky.

Mayor Johnson Gives Welcome. Mayor J. W. Johnson of Henderson made the welcome address and introduced the speakers. W. E. Tiegan, head of the Evansville C. L. U., delivered a speech on the labor movement.

In the afternoon, the boats on the river encountered the wind and rain storm, while several miles from Henderson, causing a near panic among the passengers. The storm struck the Henderson fair grounds shortly after Mother Jones had finished her speech. Lightning which struck a tree near the grounds, sent consternation through the crowds.

Evansville's delegation returned, with the exception of some of the younger people, at 5:30 o'clock. They made the trip on the Steamer Joe Fowler and the Prince and barge Princess. The celebration continued at Henderson in the evening with a big dance at Atkinson park.

Carpenters Celebrate at Cave Park. Carpenters' Union No. 30 celebrated the day with a picnic at West Heights Cave park. A large number attended and enjoyed the entire day. The committee in charge of the program consisted of W. C. Shrode, J. Owens, A. C. Rose, W. A. Wilson, L. W. Lamb, J. L. Tate, with the officials of the union assisting.

Dancing and games were the principal features of the entertainment and all kinds of contests were held. Barbecued meats and refreshments were served.

The Fraternal Order of Pilgrims held a celebration at Barnett's Grove. Several hundred were at the park and enjoyed a big time.

CAMP CUSTER IS NOW READY FOR SOLDIERS

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 4.—Camp Custer, the national army cantonment near here is ready for the Wisconsin and Michigan boys, chosen

Removes Freckles or Tan

Take— Petroleum Jelly 1 ounce. Bl and White, small box. Mix eq parts, don't heat.

Apply the resultant ointment to neck, hands and arms once a day a week and then only occasionally. Bomm's Drug Store can easily supply you with Plough's Black and and vasoline or Petroleum Jelly. recipe don't cost much and is than the more expensive prepare. You will like it immensely. It ble dark or sallow skin and remove sunburn or freckles, also re black heads, pimples or skin tions and leaves your comp smooth, soft, light and healthy, so much better to have a smooth, healthy complexion.—Ad

If you were Steelwork

—engaged in strenuous, open-air toil day—your bowels would take care of themselves. For sedentary workers a periodic flushing of the system is really necessary.

DRIT

Evansville Journal News Tuesday Sept 4 1917