TOMORROW: Miss Kellermann again answers many of the more important questions asked by her pupils. Her replies to these questions will be of great benefit to you in attaining swimming perfection. You gain solutions of your own water problems.

The chaos represented by only one step across. But you does any girl come back once taken that step and gone to brink. On one side behind her whispers. On the other side across the vice and temptation wait. Happy the girl whose strong mind and of will enables her to stand and face poverty and climb the rocks.

"MOTHER" JONES FEATURE OF LABOR DAY

Mother Jones was the chief attraction of the Labor Day celebration at Oak Summit Park.

In spite of her more than 80 years, she stood on the speakers' stand and spoke forcibly for two hours. She said that it was her duty to fight for the laboring man. "It has been ever since I began," she asserted, "and I am still in the fight. We are making progress because we appeal to reason and are avoiding violence and brute force. That belongs to the capitalist 'pirates'."

"When it was announced that the railroad strike was pending and orders had gone over the country for it to take place, I knew it would never take place," she declared. "I said I don't believe the men will strike and I knew the railroads would not let them strike. They knew that a strike would tie up everything; all industry would stop;

the shops would close and there would be a clamor. They knew the government would then take over the railroads and throw them overboard.

Refused Arbitration.

"Twenty-two years ago the presidents refused to arbitrate a strike was pending. Since then the working men have carried a campaign of education and agitation and in this recent conference on the strike question the railroad president begged for arbitration."

Following Mother Jones' speech William Rainey of Princeton, a member of the executive board of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, made an address on the same questions.

The parade in the morning witnessed by a crowd that thronged the street from First to Eighth street. The Grocery Clerks' Union was a prominent organization to march in the Labor Day parade and their marchers were a credit to the city. The plumbers had large floats. All of the men carried American flags.

ARE MEDICINES LIQUORS?

A certain class of prejudiced, jealous doctors call patent medicines alcoholic beverages. They will tel that such and such a medicine con-as much alcohol as a glass of beer certain quantity of whiskey; but th not mention that the beer or whis swallowed at one draught, while o small quantity of the medicine is at one dose. At the same time the use alcohol quite as freely and ma-

CARPENTERS HAVE OWN LABOR DAY CELEBRATION.

Carpenters' Union No. 90, enjoyed a picnic of its own Labor Day at West Heights Cave Park. Races and contests and dancing were events featuring the day's celebration. It was conducted in a very orderly manner.

PRINCETON.

PRINCETON, Ind., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Frank Copp, wife of a well known Southern conductor, was badly injured here Saturday night in a peculiar manner. She went to the Southern station to meet her husband. A mail bag was being dragged through the crowd after the train came in and Mrs. Copp stepped on it, not seeing it. She was thrown heavily to the concrete paving, sustaining injuries of the head, wrist and knee and wrenching her side. Though at first believed dangerously hurt, it is now thought there will be no serious results.

WOULD TAKE "OBEY" OUT OF MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The commission of seven bishops, seven pastors and seven laymen of the Protestant Episcopal church, appointed to revise the ritual of the church, has determined to eliminate the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony, it was learned here today.

The commission will report to the general convention of the church, at St. Louis, Oct. 11.

Radical changes are proposed in the ten commandments, the burial and baptismal services and in arrangements of various prayers. The tenth commandment, as an example, will be shortened to "Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's," if the commission's report is adopted.

SENATOR KERN IS SPEAKER

Touches on Adamson Bill Passed in Congress and Says It Is Temporary Legislation.

PRINCETON, Ind., Aug. 5.—Addressing one of the largest Labor Day crowds ever gathered here, Senator Kern referred to the Adamson bill, passed Saturday by Congress as temporary legislation to avert a national calamity. "The final problem," said Mr. Kern, "is yet unsolved."

From this point he enlarged on what he hoped would come some time, perhaps far in the future, see the "golden rule" so applied, with men together on an equal plane, that 999 out of 1,000 disputes could be settled without strikes.

Senator Kern traced the gradual growth of unionism from the time when it was regarded as outlawry, to the present when organized labor commands respect of all. He traced labor legislation similarly, and said within the last few years more labor legislation has been made possible than in any thirty-year period before, because the workmen are educating all the people. He paid tribute to Senator Beveridge for laying the foundation of the child labor bill and for twelve years with signal ability making a heroic fight for it, when his party and my party laughed at it.
