

ERIN McCracken / Courier & Press

Three week-old, Paige York, sleeps through her first Labor Day Parade on the lap of her aunt April Kramer, center, while they watch the parade with Paige's mother, Cheryl York, left and grandmother, Wanda Kramer, right, in Princeton on Monday. The family comes to watch the parade every year and enjoys starting out their Labor Day Holiday watching all the floats and bands go by.