

Tues Aug 26, 1930
 Vol 37 #63
 Oakland City Journal
 p-1
 Not our event

IS CRUSHED

Three Others Injured In Crash
 Six Miles East of Huntingburg

FIVE INSTANTLY KILLED

Blind Approach Was Said To Be
 Cause Of This Horrible
 Accident

One of the worst accidents of the summer occurred Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock near St. Anthony, six miles east of Huntingburg, when a fast Southern Railway Company freight train crashed into an automobile loaded with nine persons on a dangerous road crossing. Six were killed, five instantly, and the other three were seriously injured. Those killed were:
 Mrs. John Bieker, 48.
 William J. Hedding, 37.
 Irene Hedding, 15.
 Theodore Hedding, 12.
 Bernice Bieker, 10.
 Leola Bieker, eight.
 Those injured and in St. Mary's at Evansville hospital are:
 Mrs. William J. Hedding, 34.
 John Bieker, 68.
 Marie Bieker, three.

Hedding, a merchant at St. Anthony, had started with members of his and his wife's families to his farm about a mile and a half east of St. Anthony. Mr. and Mrs. Hedding, her parents, Hedding's brother and sister and three nieces of Mrs. Hedding were in the large touring car at the time.

Hedding pulled off the main road on the way out to his farm and had to cross the tracks of the Southern railroad. His view of the tracks was obscured at the point by box cars switched onto a small siding, according to witnesses.

As he pulled onto the track his car was smashed and completely wrecked by the tender of the fast extra freight, which was not running on the regular schedule. All the occupants were caught in the wreckage of the machine, which was carried several hundred feet down the right-of-way before being tossed to the side.

All those killed were killed instantly according to by-standers, with the exception of Hedding, who lived for about 20 minutes after the crash. He died from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Dr. S. L. McKinney, a physician and surgeon of Huntingburg and surgeon for the Southern Railway, was summoned immediately, and had the injured removed to St. Mary's hospital in Evansville.

Mrs. Hedding suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries, according to attending physicians.

Bieker is in the hospital, suffering from a crushed side and possible internal injuries. He is given a chance to recover unless complications set in. Dr. McKinney said last night after a consultation with other physicians at the hospital.

The little girl received cuts about the face and body and internal injuries. She is expected to recover unless complications develop, attending physicians stated.

A son of John Bieker, who had his son at St. Mary's hospital, where he was seriously ill, when informed of the death of his mother and the injury of his father, caught up the

IRAD WEISHEIT KILLED BY TEAM

County Farmer's Head
 Crushed Between Wagon
 Tongue And Tractor

Irad Weisheit, 50, a prominent member of the Weisheit school seven miles southeast of Oakland City, was instantly killed Saturday afternoon at his home while attempting to stop a runaway team of

Weisheit had driven his team into barn. He opened several stalls and allowed other horses to enter runway in the center of the

The hitched team became excited and broke through a door, attempting to halt the horses by going in front of them. He was struck on the wagon tongue and dashed along.

The team became thoroughly excited and dashed madly along. It collided with a tractor. Weisheit's head was crushed between the tongue of the wagon and the Weisheit is survived by the wife and three children. He was well known in Gibson county and had many friends in Oakland City and vicinity. The news of his tragic death came as a shock to the entire community.

A funeral service was conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in an Oakland Lutheran church near Lynn. Interment was in the adjoining cemetery.

Weisheit was engaged in balancing his books when the tragic accident occurred.

LUTTRELL TAKEN
 IN BOOZE RAID HERE

OAKLAND CITY JUNIOR BAND TO PARTICIPATE IN DALE CELEBRATION

The Oakland City junior band, directed by Delmond Cole, will participate in the parade at Dale on Labor Day and will be part of Oakland City's part of the celebration. The band will ride on a truck and play as the parade moves along.

Meanwhile, committees appointed several days ago to work out plans for the combined representation of Oakland City, Somerville, Mackey, Buckskin and Elberfeld, are busy. The banner committee met last night and laid plans for the banners and pennants for the cars. Each banner will refer in some way to the proposed construction of state road No. 57, the short route from Evansville to Indianapolis through Oakland City.

The Labor Day celebration is being given at Dale to honor Albert J. Wedeking, chairman of the Indiana State Highway Commission, who has been largely responsible for the numerous paved roads secured in this section of the state in the past two years.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Ethel Miller, of Princeton, is plaintiff in a divorce action filed in the Gibson circuit court against Earl Miller. Cruelty is charged. The plaintiff asks custody of their daughter, Betty Lou, and support for the child.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Ollie Johnson was taken to the Methodist hospital at Princeton last night in the Lamb ambulance. She is reported to be seriously ill but resting better.

PEN COMPANY REORGANIZED

Local Concern Now Known As
 The Educator Manufacturing
 Corporation

The Securograph Pen Company is in the process of reorganization. It is now known as the Educator Manufacturing Corporation. The name was changed and the program of reorganization and refinancing was voted in the stockholders' meeting held July 28, 1930. The same officers and directors will hold over.

The company's charter will be broadened to permit the manufacture and sale of other products in addition to fountain pens and pencils. The capitalization of the reorganized company will be $150,000, and two classes of no par stock will be issued, consisting of 6,000 shares of class B and 9,000 shares of class A stock.

The 6,000 shares of class B stock of the new company will be exchanged for all of the outstanding shares of the old company, on the basis of 2 1/2 for 1.

The 9,000 shares of class A stock of the new company will be sold at $10 each to provide $90,000 additional working capital.

All of the legal requirements have been complied with, and the reorganization of the company completed. A permit has been granted to sell the 9,000 share of class A stock. An experienced manufacturing and

(Continued on Page Four)

REV. C. H. IVY IS NEW LOCAL U. B. CHURCH PASTOR