

Photo by Kintner Studio, Princeton

King's Station Local 5584 marches in a Princeton Labor Day parade, date believed to be in 1951. By identifying the latest cars in the background, a local antique car club is helping the Labor Day

Association date hundreds of such unmarked photos, donated from the files of a defunct Princeton photography studio.