

Salute to Labor

Floats of all descriptions passed along the parade route through Princeton Monday but most of them had a labor-related theme. This one turning the Broadway and Main streets corner was built low enough to give one an idea of the throngs of people watching around the square. (Clarion photo by Frank Roberson)