

Labor Day festivities

Daily Clarion/Ted Morris

Jamie Orrell (second from left) was crowned 1995 Labor Day Queen on Friday night. Orrell, 16, is the daughter of Larry and Lorri Rembe of Princeton, and she represented UMWA No. 1791. Holly Thompson (second from right) of Fort Branch was named first runner-up. On the far right is Cara Wildt of Princeton. She was named second runner-up. At left, April Lubbenhusen of Lynville is Miss Congeniality. Below, one of the floats in Monday morning's Labor Day parade. (Please turn to Page 3 for more pictures.) The region's Labor Day Association has held festivities every year since 1886.
