LABOR DAY

★ ★ ★

"Mr. American" is his name and no-one ever had better claim to that proud title. He is the American working man. He is 100% sold on the American free way of life, because he has seen it work . . . for himself, for his family, for his country. He is the world's greatest producer . . . has the world's greatest earning power. Best of all, he is free and independent and intends to stay that way.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow, (September 7th) . . . all America pauses to hail "Mr. American," himself . . . the American working man. By the skill of his hands and mind, America has grown great and grown strong. Working with ever-better equipment and techniques, he is the world's greatest producer. He enjoys the world's highest standard of living. His freedom is America's independence. His independence is America's independence. His future is America's future. Because, first, last and all the time, he is American . . . in thought, word, deed and spirit!
