All details have been completed, everything is in readiness, and with prediction for excellent weather. Princeton on Monday will be the scene of the greatest Labor Day celebration ever held in this entire section.

Many committees have been hard at work for three months, numerous meetings have been held and plans have been worked out for a gala day. There will be something doing every minute of the day and evening, with gigantic morning parade as a feature and an elaborate program at the Gibson county fair grounds to entertain the thousands of visitors expected from throughout this section.

Bachman's Million Dollar Band, which will arrive Sunday to play the fair week engagement here, will play a concert in the court yard from 9 to 10 o'clock, Labor Day morning, preceding the big parade. The band will likewise play a 40-minute concert at the fairgrounds, immediately following the parade. This one feature of the Labor Day celebration in itself is certain to delight the throng.

Parade at 10:00 A. M.

At 10 A. M. the great Labor Day parade will move up Main street from the south, through the business section of the city to the fairgrounds, where the line will circle the race track for awarding of various parade display prizes and then disband for the big program.

William H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, and Leon Worthall, organizer for the International Barbers Union, will be the principal speakers at the fairgrounds. They are orators of note and will bring messages that all should hear.

Parade marshal and assistants ask that all delegations in the big Labor Day parade be in their positions on the designated streets in the south part of the city promptly at 9:40 on Monday morning, so that the line

REAMS OF GOLD FROM BOOTLEGGERS IN PHILADELPHIA

LIONS OF DOLLARS HAVE BEEN LAID AWAY BY BOOTLEGGERS IN BANKS—POLICE GET THEIR SHARE OF THE PROFITS.

PHILADELPHIA, (Sept. 1.—(UP))—A vast stream of gold flowed from the coffers of bootlegging gangs this section into the pockets of police. It is revealed by an examination of records seized by Dist. Atty. John Donoghue in the office of Marks, S. & Company.

An investigation of these accounts reveals evidence of "enormous sums of money paid to police and police officials," the prosecutor said. He refused to amplify his statement, explaining that "anything additional would tend to weaken our plans for objective we are seeking".

A recent dispatch stated that millions of dollars have been deposited in savings banks of this city by bootleggers as a result of their traffic here in illicit liquor.

This is the first attempt that has been made to bring about enforcement in an investigation of the traffic.

DEATHS

AMES FREDERICK SMITH

Ames Frederick Smith, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smith, of Plattville, Mo., died in a hospital in Denver, Colo., Saturday morning. Word received here by relatives. Freddy, who would have been 40 years old in November had been sent to Denver for treatment, following an illness of several weeks with pneumonia.

His body will be brought to Princeton for burial and will probably arrive Monday morning. Interment in the Hill. Definite funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of the body.

Frank C. Dailey Opens Demo State Campaign

W. F. Sweigert, East Chicago, for auditor of state; Arthur H. Hamrick, Greencastle, for secretary of state; Glen Gifford, Tipton, and William D. Curll, Petersburg, for Judges of the Appellate court; Thomas H. Brannaman, Brownstown, for judge of the Supreme court; John Linebarger, Rockville, for state superintendent of public instruction. Others who made short talks were Mrs. James R. Riggs, Sullivan, national committee woman and Mrs. A. P. Flynn, Logansport, vice-chairman of the state committee. More than half the members of the state committee attended the campaign opening.

Dailey's Opening Speech

Frank C. Dailey, Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, said in his opening address, in part, as follows:

"The issues of this campaign which are national in character were presented to the country a few days ago with rare courage and clarity. I said publicly at the time, and I repeat, that the acceptance speech of our standard bearer, Gov. Alfred E. Smith, as an expression of faith in the ability of the American people to control and direct their own government is the most profound pronouncement since the days of Thomas Jefferson.

The greatest farm questions are national in their scope and can be settled only by federal, and not by state law. The farmers, like the State of Indiana, have been sorely beset. Insofar as it is within the power of the state, I promise support of any fair law which tends to the relief of this basic industry.

"Economy is necessary, but in urging care of the people's money I will advocate splendid school facilities from the primary grades to the highest educational institutions, an efficient highway system, an extended and beautiful system of parks, and such other improvements as tend to the education, comfort, health and happiness of the people.

"I favor the principle of home rule, and believe that government is being constantly pushed too far from the people. Too much power has been "The Democratic state platform forth a constructive program to fulfillment of which the candidates on the Democratic state ticket earnestly pledge themselves. We believe that by selecting men not connected with political machines, Indiana regains her former honored position. "Other issues are of great importance, but there is in Indiana year an issue that transcends all others. The dominant issue is common honesty and common decency in government".

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Elsie Cammack of Oakland City underwent a major operation yesterday afternoon.

Jack Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dye, of Oakland City; Herschell Burrell Davis, son of Mr. and G. C. Davis this city, underwent operations Saturday.

Thomas Dant, of Somerville, underwent a minor operation Saturday M. on his jaw which had become infected from the effects of a tooth.

DEATHS

JAMES FREDERICK SMITH

James Frederick Smith, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smith, of North Platte, Nebr., died in a hospital in Denver, Colo., Saturday morning, according to word received here by relatives. Freddy, who would have been 9 years old in November had been taken to Denver for treatment, following an illness of several weeks with pneumonia.

The body will be brought to Princeton for burial and will probably arrive Monday morning. Interment in Maple Hill. Definite funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of the body.

Surviving are the father and mother, who was formerly Miss Lula Davis, a brother, Stanley Jr., grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith, south Main street and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Davis of this city and several uncles and aunts, also of Princeton.

Fair Grounds Program

The fairgrounds program will include afternoon and evening concerts by the Petersburg band, which will likewise head the parade, a program of 11 free acts, horse shoe pitching contest, under direction of James Crandall, colored quartet, balloon ascension, with an elaborate wrestling and boxing card at 8:00 p.m. and fine fireworks display to bring the evening to a grand close.

Amplifiers are being placed in the amphitheater and parts of the ground so that thousands of people may hear the addresses, music and other events on the program.

In addition to labor unions throughout this entire section, farm bureau organizations will participate in the great celebration here Monday. Farmers and their families have been allotted a parade division and they are planning a big turnout. Floats from business houses will likewise occupy a prominent place in the line, with indications of a splendid display. Construction of many floats has been going on for some time. These floats along with the labor unions and farm bureau will compete for parade prizes for the best representation. Business houses will likewise compete for prizes on the best window display of union made goods.

All in all, there is every indication that with thousands expected to throng the city and fair grounds from early morning until late at night, the Labor Day celebration, held here for the third consecutive year, will be a tremendous success from every standpoint.

A-P EMPLOYEES TO SPEND SUNDAY AT SEMINOLE LAKE

The Evansville branch of the Louisville unit of A & P Tea Co.'s officials, managers and employees will hold their annual picnic at Seminole lake Sunday, Sept. 2.

The delegation will assemble on the east side of the public square here at 10:00 o'clock, and after parading the square will drive to the lake for the day. A picnic dinner will be served on the grounds at the noon hour.

Games and contests will be held throughout the day, prizes to be awarded the winners of all events.

Too much power has been taken from local communities and vouchsafed to boards and commissions. If a local community desires to construct a road, bridge, school house, court house, city hall or other improvement which it is to pay for with his own money, it should be permitted to determine for itself, without any board in the state house telling it, how many rooms the building may
