BACK TO SCHOOL

ORDER ANNOUNCED FOR LABOR PARADE

Labor: William Mitch, Terre Haute, secretary-treasurer. United Mine Workers of America: M. Cliff Townsend of the state farm bureau. Practically all district officers of the United Mine Workers will attend the celebration.

After the floats have gone around the track, they will park in the inner ring so that the judges will have an opportunity to give the rival displays closer study if this is necessary.

The parade route will be kept open, no parking along the line of march being permitted from 8 a. m. until after the parade. City and special police will be on duty in the city and at the grounds to assist in parking and keeping the parade route clear.

To Clean Up Grounds

The fairgrounds will be thoroughly cleaned Sunday for the Labor day celebration.

The Red Cross and Methodist hospital tents will remain on the grounds to render such service as may be needed.

The McClellan shows, concessions and in fact all entertainment features will remain over for Labor day.

The free acts will include the Four Lameys, noted aerialists, and many others. There will be a fine boxing card with noted fighters. Our own Joe Lynn will meet Young Wilson, of Louisville, Ky., in the feature bout.

The speakers reception committee and parade judges will meet at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning at the Kidd hotel, in cars.

No Admission Charge

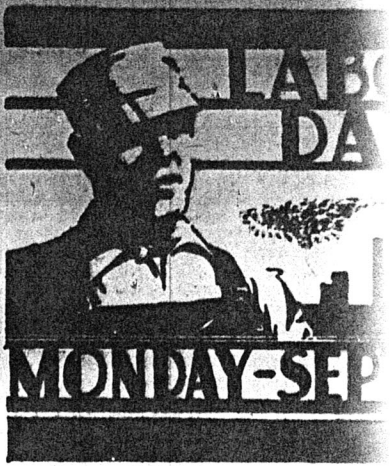

There will be no admission charge at the fairgrounds gate for the big Labor day program.

Mr. Aten will deliver an address at the Broadway Christian church at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. Everyone is especially urged to attend this pre-Labor day meeting.

The best amplifiers obtainable have been secured from St. Louis, Mo., and these will be placed at the amphitheater and through the grounds so that the addresses can be heard by the many thousands present.

CARMI AUTO MIXUP

The Carmi automobile, left here Wednesday night, was claimed by the owner yesterday. It seemed that a business partner of the owner brought the car here and left it. Someone called Carmi from Princeton and told the owner where his car was. The owner notified the Carmi police and they called the Princeton police, telling the latter where they could locate the car. The man who claimed to be the owner of the auto did not take the car
