Walter W. Richeson, just plair "Bill" to all you sport fans, has accepted a position as coach and teacher of social studies at Fontanet, Ind., for the coming school year. Richeson was a member of one of Princeton's outstanding page fives. He graduated from Indiana State Teachers college at Terre Haute.

Prop football opens tonight in the state but the calendar will not be really heavy until next Friday night. That's when the Tiger open here with Washington. What we are wondering is just how these clubs opening tonight managed to get in enough practice to allow them to compete in their first game. Locally if it isn't rain it's been too hot to really get down to brass tacks.

Washington high will have a new lighting system for their field this fall. According to reports, when completed it will be the best in the state.

That long arm of the Army reserve-corps has reached former Jeffersonville basketball coach Ed Denton. He has been notified of the date to take his physical examination. The Red Devils may also feel the results of "that arm" again since Bill Johnson, the new basketball coach who replaced Denton, is also a member of a reserve unit. Incidentally the
