 inch special shells will release high in air a mass of glittering and prismatic hued daggers and speargles, creating an awe-inspiring effect in colors.
Light Grounds as by Day Weigand's searchlight shells are facsimiles of the shells used during the World war. These electric searchlight shells create a magnificent effect lighting up the grounds as though by day.
 Fairgoers will watch for Weigand's Mammoth Tourbillons. These will rise from the ground, whirling high in the air and ejecting a spray of gold and silver scintillating fire.
 A novel and beautiful tourbillon effect is produced by firing four of these from the ground. They rise to a height of from 60 to 75 feet, emitting showers of golden spray, resembling a giant bear stalk.

 These and other brilliant fireworks devices will be seen during the fair next week. In all they will comprise the most striking fireworks programs ever offered the public in southern Indiana.
