

SEVEN DIVISIONS IN LABOR PARADE

SHERIFF RAIDS LOFTON PLACE

QUANTITY OF WHITE MULE WHISKY SEIZED—LOFTON UN- DER ARREST.

Parking themselves so quietly that three fierce dogs failed to notice their presence, Sheriff Sylvester Summers and Deputy Sheriff Earl Hollen about 10 o'clock Saturday night sprang a surprise on Ivan Lofton, 38, at his farm seven miles west of here when they seized a five gallon jug containing two gallons of white mule whisky, and five pint bottles also containing white whisky. Lofton was charged with possession and sale of liquor. Lofton is a prisoner in the county jail, pending filling of bond.

Hide Behind Wagon

The officers slipped into Lofton's yard without disturbing the three dogs and concealed themselves behind a wagon. Two Princeton men arrived and were in the act of negotiating a sale, the officers said, when the arrest was made. One of the would-be purchasers ran but a revolver shot or two brought him to a halt. They at once "told all they knew" and as a result the officers located the jug buried in a field nearby.

The sheriff also located twelve or fifteen gallons of home brew bottled and hidden in a field near Jintown. There was no evidence as to the ownership of the brew and the officers smashed the cache with their bullets.

YOUTH, GIRL ARE BRUTALLY SLAIN

ORPHAN GIRL IS FOUND ON ROADSIDE, ALIVE 3 DAYS AFTER ATTACK.

PROVIDENCE, Ky., Aug. 29.—(P)—Death in an Evansville, Ind., hospital early today of Miss Pauline De Armon added to the difficulties of officers seeking to solve the mystery of an attack upon the 16-year-old orphan girl and the murder of Fred Russell, her 21-year-old fiancée.

Although the attack is believed to have taken place on Wednesday night or Thursday morning of last week, Miss De Armon still was alive Sunday when a searching party found her lying near the body of Russell at a point just off an unfrequented road leading to the old fair grounds near here. She was rushed to the hospital at Evansville but died at 12:15 o'clock this morning without regaining consciousness.

Meanwhile six persons, including two brothers and a sister, were held in the county jail at Dixon, near here, in connection with the crime. Although all denied any implication when taken into custody yesterday, officers plan-

PLANS COMPLETED AT GENERAL COMMITTEE MEETING YESTER- DAY—LINE OF MARCH AROUND SQUARE

At a committee meeting in C. L. U. hall yesterday morning, with an attendance which filled the hall to overflowing, plans were completed for the big Labor day parade here next Monday morning.

It was agreed that there will be seven grand divisions of the parade with a number of bands in the line of march. The Petersburg band will head the parade and will play at the fairgrounds during the day.

H. J. Fritz of this city is parade marshal.

Placing of the main divisions in the parade was accomplished by lot and resulted as follows:

- 1.—Meat cutters.
- 2.—Miners: No. 3157 Francisco No. 2 local; No. 5179, Enos; No. 2410, Gudgel; No. 3345, Somerville; No. 5584, Kings; No. 551, Magnolia; No. 4149, Buckskin; No. 352, Oakland City; other locals as they apply for places.
- 3.—Barbers.
- 4.—Farm bureau.
- 5.—Printers.
- 6.—Building trades: Carpenters, painters, plasterers, electrical workers, etc.
- 7.—Shop crafts: Sheet metal workers, blacksmiths, boilermakers, machinists, etc.

The parade will form in the southern part of the city at the intersection of streets and will move north on Prince street at 10 o'clock to Broadway; thence west to Hart; north on Hart to State; east on State to Main; north on Main to Spruce street; thence west to the fairgrounds entering at the northeast gate.

The parade will pass entirely around the track and will be reviewed by the judges from the free acts platform.

On account of the competition it was decided that there will be first and second prizes awarded for the merchants, the laboring men and the farmers' displays.

AUTO ACCIDENTS ARE REPORTED

WEEK-END SMASHES OCCUPY CONSIDERABLE SPACE IN REPORT BOOK

The police accident report book contains several closely written pages dedicated to automobile accidents over the week-end. No one of the accidents can be classed as serious although the damage in some cases is considerable. In several cases, the accidents occurred at the intersections on the public square, indicating that some drivers are in too great a hurry to get around. The sudden stopping of an automobile in a line of Sunday traffic is a fruitful source

Mrs. James Snowden, 60, died 12 hours after she had worn them at a charity fete.

Attired in a striking costume of crimson and gold and a bejeweled headdress in addition to $250,000 in jewelry, Mrs. Snowden had played a principal part in a sketch called "Oriental Lady," a feature of the "Hampton Follies," a society revue given for a hospital fund.

FT. BRANCH MINE TO RE-OPEN SOON

TRACK BEING LAID IN THE HAUL- AGE WAYS PREPARATORY TO LOADING COAL

The Ft. Branch Mining company is laying steel in its main haulage ways and is preparing to begin loading coal. Reopening of the mine at Ft. Branch is expected within a few days.

During the past four or five weeks steel was removed from the mine and it was said the shaft would be abandoned. However, new equipment is now being put in and early resumption of mining is indicated.

The mine, which has been idle since April 1, employs several hundred men.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS WOOLLEN

INDIANAPOLIS BANKER DIS- CUSSES RELIGION IN ADDRESS AT LOCAL CHURCH

An audience which filled most of the available space in the Broadway Christian church heard an address Sunday evening by Evans Woollen, prominent Indianapolis banker.

Mr. Woollen, also prominent in political circles of the state, devoted his address to a discussion of present day religion from the layman's standpoint.

"In this age when many are turning away from religion to atheism it is well that we get back to the fundamentals of religion," Woollen said. "There is no conflict between religion and science, but the conflict is between theology and science. And the layman need not concern himself about theology but should concern himself more about religion. That's what we need today—religion!"

Woollen declared that the layman should turn his attention to absorbing into his heart and mind, the fundamentals of religion: The Bible is not a book but that it is a library, he said. It was not written in chronological order but that many books were written long before Genesis was written.

"The layman of today should be better acquainted with Jesus," Woollen declared. "A lack of knowledge of the man Jesus, the savior Jesus is the basis of all misunderstanding. If we
