

Mon Sept 2, 1929

Vol LXXXIV No 172

PC-News

Front Page

MORNING EDITION

PRINCETON

Member of The Associated Press.

CLARION PUBLISHING COMPANY (Inc.), PUBLISHERS

CROWDS LEAVE EARLY FOR BOONVILLE MEET

PRINCETON WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED TODAY AT BIG LABOR CELEBRATION WHICH GETS UNDER WAY WITH PARADE, STARTING AT 10:15 O'CLOCK.

All roads, including the Southern railroad, led to Boonville this morning where thousands of people from southwestern Indiana are gathering for the labor day celebration.

The Southern railway excursion train left here at 7 o'clock this morning, making stops at various points east of here, including Huntingburg. From there it was to go on to Boonville.

The parade is scheduled to start at 10:15 o'clock this morning with H. J. Fritz, of this city, as marshal of the day.

In Four Divisions

The parade will move in four divisions as follows: Building trades; miscellaneous crafts; miners; railroad shop crafts.

Eight bands will take part in the parade. These will include the Princeton American Legion band, directed by Professor Irvin L. Oster, and the Princeton high school band, directed by Professor Arthur Dragoon.

At the Boonville fairgrounds the Princeton Legion and Boonville bands will give concerts. Professor Oster will be soloist with the local band.

Noted Speakers Secured

The speakers of the day will be Van A. Blittner of West Virginia, well known orator of the United Mine Workers, and William H. Bettle, president of the Indiana Farm bureau.

There will be a variety of entertainment on the grounds with nine free acts.

Professor Skiver will be there with his balloon ascension and five parachute drops.

Local people will be interested in the announcement that Joe Lynn, well known Princeton featherweight boxer, now of Detroit, and one of the leaders in his class in Michigan, will be the headliner of the Boonville boxing program.

Rumble's carnival with eight shows and three rides will also be on the grounds.

WAR MATERIAL CAN BE SECURED FOR DISPLAY HERE

VENEZUELANAS ARE PROUD OF CLAY

CARACAS, Venezuela, Sept. 2.—Located in the heart of the business section here is a square bearing the name of Plaza Henry Clay, and preparations have already been made to receive the statue of Henry Clay, for which the United States congress has appropriated the sum of $11,000.

Some few years ago Venezuela presented to the people of the United States a statue of Simon Bolivar, which stands in Central park, New York; today, Caracas is a city with a statue at almost every corner, but one of its finest pieces of sculpture is the statue of George Washington which graces a beautiful park.

With the exception of Washington, none of the founders of the United States are better known or better loved than Henry Clay. Schoolboys are reminded of Clay's great speech in congress on behalf of the emancipation of the South American states, and Venezuelan historians recall his correspondence with their own Bolivar and of how President Monroe offered to Clay the mission to South America as the first regularly accredited diplomatic representative to what was then Greater Colombia and which then included Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru.

Entries Placed At Fairground

FIREPROOF SHIPS BEING PLANNED

TO TAKE ACTION AFTER TWO CRAFTS ARE DAMAGED BY BLAZES

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Fires aboard two great ocean liners—the Europa and then the Paris—have set shipbuilders planning fireproof vessels. It is the old story of wood vs. steel, and right now the finest steamships occupy the same place as the old wooden coaches in comparison with the modern steel Pullman.

A tour of the shipping district

RADIUM LURE DEEP SEA

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—A group of fishermen something with today, when word of successful week of radium as a lure fishing. The radium was from Beebe, New York, a luminous coating on the to sounding wires about in depths where no fish. The first catch was a squid of the octopus family, enough to fill a fair sized

Senator Brings

News that Beebe had a new lure for the first time by United States Senator Walcott, of Connecticut, here today from Bermuda.

One of Beebe's finds, he said, is a tiny fish, rod, line, bait and three hooks dangle from a line as long as the body of the possesses muscles capable these hooks for some distance of itself as it swims.

"We were amazed," Walcott, "at another fish through a microscope. It is such so elastic that it swells three times its own size."

Some Queer Fish

He said that Beebe's squids with eyes on the sides and fish with pale, fluorescent light in color, blue, and red.

Before leaving here on Monday he outfitted with glow sticks a foot long, hoping to the powerful creatures from less depths of the sea.

BIG WEEK OPENS TO EXHIBITS AND FINE RACING IN CONTOUR STREAM — ENTRIES MORROW AT NOON OPENS OFFICIALLY

The Gibson county fair known as the Great and glowing its seventy-fifth week.

Race horses began coming day evening. Horses, cart stock, machinery of all pouring into the grounds stands which had been were ready for business. Lan's big shows were on midway and everything