FOR LABOR DAY

There is Suspension of Business and Some Go Out of Town.
 Labor Day was largely observed in Princeton, most of the principal industries closing for the day, and the banks, saloons, postoffice, barber shops and other establishments knocking off from labor. A number went from here to Evansville, Mt. Carmel and other points to attend the celebrations there.

Winfred Cunningham, of Tulsa, Okla., is here visiting his sister, Mrs. Conrad Miller, in north Seminary street.

J. D. McCullough, of Austin, Okla. is in the city looking up old friends. He formerly resided in Oakland City.
