EVERY MINUTE OF LABOR DAY FILLED

FROM START OF PARADE TO CLOSING EVENT AT NIGHT, MONDAY WILL BE NOTABLE OCCASION

The greatest Labor day celebration in this entire section of the country. That is the aim of the many committees who have been working since early summer on countless details for the Labor day observance in Princeton on next Monday, September 5. And with plans practically complete with exception of the usual last minute arrangements, there is every indication that Princeton and the Gibson county fairgrounds will be the mecca for thousands upon thousands of people for the greatest Labor day observance ever held here.

Parade Starts Day

The celebration, which from every standpoint promises to far exceed that of last year here, will start off Monday morning with a gigantic parade at 4 o'clock, passing through the principal streets of the city and to the Gibson county fairgrounds, where the line will pass before the amphitheater and judges' platform.

As previously stated, the 1927 Labor day celebration here is a joint gathering of labor unions south of the B. & O. railroad and Farm Bureau organizations. This will bring throngs of laboring men, farmers and their families, in addition to the thousands of others, to this city on that day.

Marshal Fritz in Charge

Parade Marshal H. J. Fritz, of this city, and his many assistants have a real job on hands to line up this great parade and handle it from start to finish. The various delegations will form on streets in the south part of the city, ready to move promptly at 10 o'clock and the parade marshal announces the parade will move out at that hour, regardless of whether all delegations are in line. The seven big divisions will move in south Prince street, north to Broadway, west to Hart, north on Hart to State, east on State to Main, north on Main to Spruce and west on Spruce to the fairgrounds.

Arriving at the grounds, the entire line will enter at the northeast gate and move entirely around the race track, passing before the amphitheater and the judges who will be located on the free act platform. The judges will make their awards for first and second prizes on the best displays, either floats or other displays, of labor unions, farmers and merchants. The parade will then disband in the center rink. Floats and other displays will be placed at intervals through the parade by the marshals. Many floats are rapidly nearing completion and this feature this year will surpass anything ever attempted in this line.

Bands Hired for Day

The Petersburg band and the Patoka Community band have been hired by the labor unions for the parade. The Petersburg organization heading the march and likewise furnishing music at the fairgrounds during the day and evening. It is expected a number of other bands and musical organizations will be in the line of march.

PAGEANT TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

EARLY HISTORY OF GIBSON COUNTY WILL BE SHOWN IN SCENES

A pageant depicting pioneer life in Gibson county will be presented at 7 o'clock in a natural amphitheater a half mile south of the city.

The presentation is being made by members of organizations from Princeton, Ft. Branch, Owensville and Hazleton. It is produced by W. V. Willis of Petersburg.

Electric lights have been installed and a band stand and platform erected in a field on the east side of road 41 between the new rock road leading east a half mile south of Princeton and the first concrete bridge on road 41.

A concert by the Putoka Boys and Girls band will open the program at 7 o'clock. The pageant itself will depict the arrival of the French missionaries, the first settlement of the county, the coming of George Rogers Clark and pioneer life in the newly-organized community. An old fiddlers' contest will be an additional attraction.

Organizations presenting scenes in the pageant are Battery D of Princeton, the Redmen of Ft. Branch, the Legion post of Owensville and a Hazleton church.

GREAT FREE ACTS BOOKED FOR FAIR

FIVE FLYING LAMARS HEAD NOTABLE BILL OF ATTRACTIONS—OFFERINGS WILL INCLUDE AT LEAST TEN SUPERB PERFORMANCES

Good fortune and careful selection have resulted in the booking of some great free attractions for the Gibson county fair next week and the assurance of more bookings of the highest class, bringing the attractions for the week up to ten or more acts of high class vaudeville grade.

Where can the public find, except at the Gibson county fair, such entertainment as will be lavishly produced on the freeact platform at the fairgrounds all next week?

Lamars Head List

The Five Flying Lamars are the greatest troupe of double and triple somersaulters the world has ever known—double and triple somersaults on the flying swings. The Lamars, consisting of two ladies and three men, are in a class by themselves and are justly known as the world's greatest acrobats.

The Five Flying Lamars were contracted to play the Interstate fair at Sioux City, Ia., the week of September 5 but the Sioux City fair was declared off as the grounds were to be

DARWIN'S SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE, HE SAYS, CLAIM OF ORIGIN

LEEDS, Eng., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Darwinian theory that man descended from an ape-like being has a champion in Sir Arthur Keith, noted British scientist. He stated his conclusion that Darwin was right, before scientists, inventors and scholars, at the ninety-sixth annual session of the British association for the advancement of science Wednesday night.

He declared that the evidence supports the conclusion that man has arisen from an anthropoid ape, a chimpanzee, and that the date which human and anthropoid lines of descent began to diverge lies near the beginning of the Miocene period.

"On our modest scale of reckoning," he added, "that gives man the respectable antiquity of about one million years."

COOLIDGE GOES TO COUNTY FAIR

NEWELL, S. D., Sept. 1.—(AP)—A government irrigation project here was ready today for inspection by President Coolidge, who then planned to go to the Butte county fair at Nisland. The trip was the last of the numerous journeys by the president to neighboring Black Hills cities since coming to South Dakota for the summer. Next week he will return to Washington.

High Grade Acts

These numbers are starters for the big list of free attractions but there will be others, at least ten in number. They will be of exceptional high class and here is the reason why such offerings can be brought here. The fair management is taking advantage of a situation made possible because of the theater strike in Chicago. Many fine acts coming from the east have found their Chicago booking closed for the present. Consequently, they are willing to fill in the week on an outside bill. It will be a rare opportunity for the Gibson county fair goers to see a class of free acts never to be forgotten here.

SERVICES SUNDAY AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Judgments in the church building are most completed and the work of the year is the larger and more consistent quarters promise well for the coming month. The Five Flying LaMars were contracted to play the Interstate fair at Sioux City, Ia., the week of September 5 but the Sioux City fair was declared off as the grounds were to be sold.

Due to this circumstance this great feature became available for other booking and the Gibson county fair association availed itself of the chance to book this superb act.

Incidentally the Five Flying LaMars were the star sensational aerial act on a $25,000 bill of attractions at the Interstate fair at Kankakee, Ill., the week of August 15 and this week are the star attraction at the DuQuoin State fair, DuQuoin, Ill. The management of the act was negotiating for placing this act with the Indiana State fair the week of September 6. But the Five Flying LaMars were bought for the Gibson county fair patrons and so they will be seen here and not at Indianapolis.

Daring Balmain

Another act is the three Balmain, a trio who do remarkable equilibristic accomplishments upon a slender thread of steel. They introduce sensational and thrilling deeds of daring calling for the greatest muscular discipline and skill.

In addition, the Balmain make merry with the spectators by a wonderful series of monkey frolics and by absurd pantomime acts and feats that keep the audience in constant good humor.

Skiver the Veteran

Any story of the coming fair would be incomplete without mention of the daily balloon ascensions of Professor Skiver, the veteran aeronaut, who has been coming to the Gibson county fair for many years. Skiver indeed is the pioneer of the daring ascensions and more daring parachute drops in which he cuts successfully as many as five chutes before reaching the ground.

The hazard in such a feat is recalled in the death of one of Professor Skiver's assistants here two years ago when he cut a "chute" too near the ground and died of injuries received in the fall.

Professor Skiver, who leaves nothing undone to insure the safety of his performance, deeply regretted the fatal accident. He paid all funeral expenses and in other ways showed the character of the man he is. Professor Skiver is a real man and gentleman, an expert in the manufacture of balloons and parachutes and he always puts on an act here that thrills the crowd.

A self-holding device is now used in the Skiver balloon ascensions and the public is not called on to aid. This prevents accidents to the crowd and guarantees a good, high ascension.

Another Classy Act

Still another classy act has been billed for the free attractions. This is known as the Australian Birds.

COUNTRY CLUB

Plans for the annual Labor day golf tournaments Monday at the Princeton Country club were announced today by the committee in charge.

The principal prize for which members will compete will be the membership loving cup, the possession for the past year of Alva Levi. The cup will go to the regular member making the lowest individual score for eighteen holes without reference to handicap.

Prizes will also be awarded on handicap scores. Players competing in the tournament will play eighteen holes, the tournament starting at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Entries for the tournament close at noon September 4.

A mixed tournament for women and men will be played at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

In addition to the cup offered for the low score, a cup has been donated by George R. McAlevy to the winner of the handicap event. As is the case with the low score cup, the handicap cup will become the property of the player first to win it three times. The cup will be known as the McAlevy cup.

In former years the Labor day tournament has been an all-day affair but members of the club desiring to co-operate in the city Labor day parade, have postponed play until afternoon this year.

To Move on Schedule

Further details of the parade formation and the fairgrounds program will be announced during the remainder of the week. Everything will move on schedule, it is announced by the various committee chairmen and officers in charge of the celebration.
