Local Appeals to Senior Senator Result In Fox Movietone Unit Coming Here to Record Pictures and Sound Labor Day.

The coming here yesterday of a Fox Movietone crew to take pictures and sound records of the great southwestern Indiana Labor day parade and celebration was due entirely to the influence of Senator James E. Watson. Upon request from here that he use his influence to secure this publicity feature Senator Watson "went to the bat" and never quit until the Fox executives agreed to fill the date.

The Fox representatives here yesterday were Charles Geis, cameraman, and Irving Korenman, sound engineer. They represent one of the four Fox units with headquarters in Chicago. They stated that they were surprised to be ordered here, since they had had previous orders to be in Detroit on Labor day. Mr. Geis said they had filled engagements in Indiana but twice before, when he took pictures of the Princeton cyclone from the air, in 1925, and last year at the big Republican rally at Linton. The outfit brought here yesterday and used in taking pictures and sound is valued at $29,000.

There is no question that without the influence of Senator Watson this Fox unit would have been in Detroit yesterday, and not in Princeton. Emil Boerke took up the proposition direct with Senator Watson and was assisted in interesting the senator and the Fox company by S. T. Fisher and Manager J. B. Green of the Princeton theater.

The pictures and sound taken here yesterday will be shown later in all the theaters that use the Fox Movie-tone service.

here yesterday to assist in dedicating the new grandstand.

who will be an official guest Thursday when Governor Leslie and the legislators are honored, was a prominent swine exhibitor yesterday. His Hampshire barrow won the grand championship, and his pen of barrows of the same breed took the highest available honor.

Officers policing the grounds were under orders today to concentrate their efforts on pickpockets, many of whom were reported yesterday.

Among those who suffered losses from the thieves was James F. Clark, Niles, Mich., whose billfold containing $20 and valuable papers, was taken from his pocket in an exhibit building.

 floats of superlative beauty.
 The Gibson County Farm bureau won first place in the farmer division and the Welborn & Criswell company store displaying union made goods.

Judge Smith Chairman

Judge Claude A. Smith acted as chairman at the fairgrounds and introduced all the speakers and other features.

Mayor O. T. Brazelton, of Princeton, was the first speaker on the program.
 He welcomed the large throng to the city. He expressed his wish to build Broadway street so as to give employment to hundreds of men.

Farmer Brown, of Arizona, admonished the farmers not to be too critical of the federal farm board, declaring that it had not yet had a fair trial.
 He expressed his opinion that it would work out all right and would bring farm relief so much needed today. He stated he was on his way to Washington to work with the board and was confident that relief is in sight for the farmers.

Adolph Fritz, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, congratulated the union organizations for the large turnout and stated that this was the greatest Labor day celebration he ever attended.

Alexander Gordon, secretary of four brotherhoods, the brakemen, engineers, firemen and conductors, spoke briefly and asked that all get back of men who run for office under the labor banner.

Mayor McCarthy Speaks

Mayor McCarthy, of Washington, spoke on the tax question. He praised municipal ownership of utilities and declared this was the most effective way to solve the tax problem. The Washington tax rate now he declared was 45 cents on the $100 and that if the city bought its water plant as he believed they would next year, they would have no tax.

Boyd Gurley, editor of the Indianapolis Times, the principal speaker of the day, advocated equal distribution of wealth as the prime need of the country today. The fellow up on top and the man on the bottom are too far apart he declared. The only solution of the economic problem is to get these two ends closer together. More home owners and less tenants is another thing he advocated. More people, all the people, he emphasized, should get interested in the government, and all work together.
